

BERTRAND CREEK

Bertrand Creek is the largest tributary to the Lower Mainstem Nooksack River, with its headwaters lying over the border in British Columbia. Livestock fencing and riparian planting occurred on this reach in 2000 and 2003, respectively.

The total counts of live salmon and carcasses for all the years that NSEA has conducted spawning ground surveys on this reach.