Terrell Creek flows from Terrell Lake to Birch Bay. Three reaches were surveyed near the mouth of Terrell Lake. The data above represents all three reaches. Fish passage barrier removal, riparian planting, and large woody debris placement occurred throughout these reaches between 2012 and 2014.

The total counts of live salmon and carcasses for all the years that NSEA has conducted spawning ground surveys on this reach.