

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting the Project HOPE UK website. Project HOPE UK's privacy policy describes its treatment of information you provide through the website. We take website user's privacy very seriously. Any information supplied via this website will be handled and stored under the latest provisions of the UK Data Protection Act.

Information Collected and Stored Automatically

By visiting, reading pages, or downloading information, we may gather and store certain information about your visit automatically. Project HOPE UK does not collect individual information about our website visitors or their use of the Project HOPE UK site. We may collect:

1. The Internet domain and IP address from which you access our website
2. The type of browser and operating system used to access our site
3. The date and time you access our site
4. The pages you visit and
5. The website address before linking to the Project HOPE UK website.

Project HOPE UK uses this information to help its website be more useful to visitors — to learn about the number of visitors to its site and the types of technology its visitors use.

Personal Information

Project HOPE UK does not collect or use information for commercial marketing and your data will never be revealed to a third party without your consent and you will not receive unsolicited e-mails as a result of supplying us with your e-mail address. If you choose to provide Project HOPE UK with personal information by sending an e-mail to a member of its staff, or by filling out a form with your personal information and submitting it through the website, we will use that information to respond to your message and to help us provide you with information that you request.

We will share your e-mail address only if required to do so by law or by subpoena.

Financial details

Project HOPE UK does not store any customer credit or debit card information. This data is all stored securely by our payment provider PayPal. Details of PayPal's privacy policy can be read on the PayPal website.

Exiting Project HOPE UK's website

Once you link to another site, you are subject to the privacy policy of the new site.