The Fifth Sunday of Lent

April 2, 2017

Today is the turning point in Lent with less than two weeks until we enter into the final days of the Triduum. For those of us old enough to remember, this Sunday is the day the statues and crosses were covered, helping us to realize the somberness of these last two weeks before the Easter Vigil. The gospels of the last three Sundays provide a focus to help us reflect on our Lenten journey this year.

The woman at the well

How is Christ present in your life as living water?

The man born blind

How is Christ present in your life as the life of the world?

The raising of Lazarus

How is Christ present in your life as the Resurrection and the life?

As we look forward to Palm Sunday and the Triduum St. Paul reminds us that it is our incorporation into Christ that makes it possible for us to share in the dynamic power of Christ's resurrection. By believing and through baptism that we receive this Spirit who dwells within us and gives us new Life.
