

Dear Parents,

I'm sure that like me, you were horrified to wake up to the news of the tragic events in Manchester last night.

Please do join me, the staff and the children in offering your prayers for all those affected.

Our children may be upset, confused or anxious about what happened and struggle to come to terms with it. They might also be worried about future events and repercussions. Please can I reassure you that we will continue to work with and help the children make sense of the world around them. If you are concerned about your child's feelings or behaviours following these events, please do let us know. For your information, the Childline website has some useful resources regarding dealing with feelings and worries.

This has raised the awareness that our children are the future of this world. If we want to create a better world of peace and love, without bombs, we must educate our children now about tolerance and love. I am confident that with your support, the pupils of St Joseph's will play a part in securing a better world for future generations.

Dear Parents,

I'm sure that like me, you were horrified to wake up to the news of the tragic events in Manchester last night.

Please do join me, the staff and the children in offering your prayers for all those affected.

Our children may be upset, confused or anxious about what happened and struggle to come to terms with it. They might also be worried about future events and repercussions. Please can I reassure you that we will continue to work with and help the children make sense of the world around them. If you are concerned about your child's feelings or behaviours following these events, please do let us know. For your information, the Childline website has some useful resources regarding dealing with feelings and worries.

This has raised the awareness that our children are the future of this world. If we want to create a better world of peace and love, without bombs, we must educate our children now about tolerance and love. I am confident that with your support, the pupils of St Joseph's will play a part in securing a better world for future generations.