Geoffrey Zakarian makes a Martini Martha cocktail with Martha Stewart herself.

Go-To Recipes From the Pros

These are the dishes and drinks your favorite culinary stars love making in their restaurants, as well as for friends, families and themselves. The best part? You don't have to be a professional to get these recipes right.

Geoffrey Zakarian

Food Network star, restaurateur and cookbook author

"I am so excited to have the Martini Martha cocktail in Greenwich at The National! It is named in honor of Martha Stewart, who often entertains guests with an oversized sterling silver martini shaker," says Zakarian.

MARTINI MARTHA SERVES 2 TO 6

3 ounces gin or vodka per person
Splash of dry vermouth (optional)
Lemon twist or olives for garnish

1. Place liquor into silver shaker, add extra-large ice cubes and stir until properly diluted.
2. Strain into traditional martini glasses.
3. Garnish and serve straight up.
