

What I bring to LawWithoutWalls is /are my:
Enthusiasm for coaching young professionals
Tools for giving practical legal advice
Creativity in applying the law for numerous of situations
Eagerness in learning
Recent experience of life in private practice in a top tier firm
Knowledge of many faces of Unilever business

With this construction plan of a box – because innovation starts with thinking outside the box - I would like to apply for “LawWithoutWalls”

Yours sincerely,

Liesbeth Meeuse
Legal counsel Benelux

I hope to take out of LawWithoutWalls:
International experience with other (legal) professionals
New insights for bringing business partnering to the next level
New ideas for further (technological) development of our legal function

I am a good representative of Unilever legal as:
I know many different faces and challenges of our business, as I am business partner to CD, UFS sales & marketing, logistics & procurement
In my team, I am the one person looking for solutions of technology to make our lives easier (by providing access to external legal know how & setting up practical databases for our legal team)
I highly enjoy having the opportunity to learn of professionals in other fields of expertise. (as I did when partnering business for legal Benelux in Eagle).
I am experienced in coaching (currently our interns, and previously junior associates)

The aspects of my job as legal counsel Benelux which I enjoy most come together in LawWithoutWalls; legal development, learning of other professions, coaching others and applying legal tools creatively. In my time within Unilever I have learned to think outside the box of standard legal tools. This construction plan (without a lid as the sky is limitless just like the world of law without walls) shows that the world outside this box is limitless. LawWithoutWalls would help me to discover territory outside the box and enhance my development. At the same time I would like to enhance development of others by coaching them and hopefully boost their careers. I would be proud when I have the chance to represent Unilever at LawWithoutWalls, and have the possibility to implement all learnings in our legal community.
