

COMMON OBJECTION

What happens immediately after death...reincarnation?

The Bible says: "It is appointed unto man once to die, and after this the judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). Immediately after death, a man stands before the judgment seat of God, and God looks at him either in his self-centered condition or through Christ. The man who in this life depends upon Christ for salvation has Christ as his advocate on that dreadful day, and Christ's perfection stands in his stead. But the man who thinks he can save himself destroys himself because he cannot come to the level of God's perfection. There is no second chance. Reincarnation is supported neither by the Bible nor by scientific evidence. Don't take any chances. This is the only life you will have in which to accept Christ.
