

Breaking Down Barriers

To serving at Camp PMBC

I'm too young or too old. Guess again. Here are some simple things toddlers all the way on up to seniors can do for the LORD and for camp.

- Write and/or color encouragement notes to put on the staff's encouragement board.
- Pick up garbage around the camp.
- Pick up and remove sticks throughout the campus.
- Wash windows.
- Make welcome notes to put in the rooms for retreat and summer camp guests.
- Write thank you notes to supporters of PMBC.
- Help preserve PMBC's legacy by sorting through, labeling, and preserving old photos.
- Organize various areas of the camp (Rec Hall, Attic, Sports Shed, etc)

I'm too busy. I don't have time to commit. Some needs that the camp has really don't take up that much time. Here are some examples:

- Donating money or resources
- Spread the word about camp to others that you know
- Place fliers and business cards in your workplace, club, or community
- Invite kids to camp in the summer!!
- Hand out summer camp applications
- Spread the word about RETREATS! Retreats are a large part of how we fund summer camp. Encourage those you know to plan a retreat here.
- Search out strong believers who might be willing to serve on staff
- Present a brief presentation of camp at your church, school, youth group, or other social club
- Organize a drive to collect necessities for camp (paper towels, cleaning supplies, etc)

I don't have the physical strength to do manual labor. Don't let this stop you. We have tons of work that can be done that doesn't involve breaking a sweat. In addition to many of those listed above, check out the ones below to see where you may fit.

- Computer data entry
- Creating master contact lists in excel
- Helping stuff envelopes for various occasions
- Volunteering at a retreat in the kitchen
- Creating power points, videos, and presentations
- Volunteering for childcare in the summer
- Planting flowers
- Cutting the grass- Really, we promise you won't break a sweat riding the mower!
- Pray

I have no way to get there. Good news. You can serve from wherever you are! Almost all of the suggestions listed above can be done to serve without ever stepping onto camp's property.

We want YOU to help, no matter where you are in life. Please consider some of these ways above or some ideas of your own. If none of these barriers apply to you, check out our other flier that lists other ways you can serve at camp. If you want to be a part of Camp PMBC, please email the director at director@camppmbc.com or call 570-842-9746.
