

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MOM's Organic Market CFO and Bon Appétit Management Company Food Waste Expert Join Food Recovery Network's Board of Directors

Kelly Moler and Claire Cummings Bring Their Expertise in Food and Waste Management in Food Recovery Network's Fight to Reduce Food Waste

WASHINGTON, D.C. - January 30th, 2017 - Food Recovery Network (FRN) is proud to announce two new additions to its esteemed Board of Directors: Kelly Moler, CFO of MOM's Organic Market, and Claire Cummings, the first-ever Wastes Program Manager for Bon Appétit Management Company (BAMCO). For Regina Northouse, Executive Director of FRN, the confirmations of Ms. Moler and Ms. Cummings come at the perfect time. "FRN has moved from a startup student club to a nationally recognized leader in the food recovery space," says Northouse who joined the organization in 2015. "Our board is evolving to meet the higher demands of FRN within the food recovery space and the expertise of Kelly and Claire support FRN's leadership and voice within the growing efforts of recovery." Ms. Northouse's most recent task is the implementation of FRN's three-year plan to add more FRN chapters across the U.S., reach two million pounds of food recovered, and promote food recovery as an important tool in waste reduction and behavior change through 2019.

Ms. Moler has brought her expertise in finance and leadership to businesses and corporations for over 15 years. As the CFO for MOM's, she has overseen the growth of the environmentally-conscious and sustainably-minded grocery chain for almost a decade. "When I learned about the mission of FRN, and the passion that their student leaders had, I knew I had to be involved. The model is inspiring and reminds us that we can all make impact to reduce our food waste and support our communities." Ms. Cummings, an award-winning expert in waste management, joins the Board of Directors after having served on the FRN Board of Advisors since 2013. "Bon Appétit Management Company is committed to addressing the issue of food waste, and we see the work of FRN as an example that many can follow. Joining the Board of Directors, I'm excited to be part of the strategy to bolster food recovery in the national dialogue around food waste and to amplify the voice of FRN in that work."

President of the Board of Directors, Ernie Minor, is thrilled to have Kelly and Claire join the national board. Ernie, who serves as Senior Executive of Business Development sees many opportunities for strategic development and thought partnerships. "Over the past five years, FRN's growth has been tremendous. As FRN works to decrease food waste and feed more hungry people systemically, we look forward to harnessing Kelly and Claire's expertise to change the dialogue and support action.."

About Food Recovery Network

Food Recovery Network unites and empowers college students to fight food waste and hunger by recovering surplus food from their campuses and local restaurants that would otherwise go to waste and donating it to hungry Americans. FRN has nearly 200 chapters in 44 states and the District of Columbia that have recovered more than 1.8 million pounds of food since 2011. For more information about Food Recovery Network, visit www.foodrecoverynetwork.org and be sure to subscribe to our newsletter on the homepage. Follow @FoodRecovery on Twitter and Instagram, and like FRN on Facebook at www.facebook.com/FoodRecoveryNetwork.

Media Contact:

Antonio Hernandez

Program & External Affairs Fellow

Food Recovery Network

antonio.hernandez@foodrecoverynetwork.org

(240)-615-8813