

STICK TO LOCAL FARMS

Bicycle Tour B – for advanced bicyclists

This challenging, beautiful, 25-mile tour encompassing ten diverse growers, begins at Kelder's Farm, with its giant garden gnome and sweeping views of 100 acres of mixed you-pick crops. Bell's Christmas Trees looks festive even in the summer, with rows of evergreens and picturesque red barns, including a few happy black and white cows in residence, too. It doesn't get sweeter than Lyonsville Sugarhouse, maple syrup operation that taps thousands of local trees every year to create aromatic syrup and candy. Veronica's Garden has lots of seedlings, plants and garden decorations. Stone Ridge Orchard has dozens of varieties of apples, pears, peaches and sells delicious fruit pastries. Duchess Farm Equestrian Center features beautiful horses and rolling meadows. Owned by a 12th-generation farmer, Flying Change Farm has gorgeous horses gamboling in green paddocks. At Westwind Orchard they have lots of organically grown apple trees, plus there are delicious berries and vegetables, and a farm market and pizza oven on many weekends. Hollengold Farm is the work of botanical artist Wendy Hollender and features many of the plants found in Wendy's drawings and prints. Hops are grown at Arrowood Farm, which has a brewery and tasting room. A flock of ducks is also in residence. Saunderskill Farm Market is owned by the second oldest farm in the nation, surrounded by pick-your-own fields and offering home-baked goodies and prepared foods, with comfortable indoor and outdoor seating.
