Since 2011, GrowGood has been working at the intersection of food justice, environmental sustainability, holistic wellness, and job readiness by growing Food, Hope & Community at a 1.5-acre regenerative urban farm adjacent to The Salvation Army’s Bell Shelter.

The Bell Shelter is one of the largest homeless shelter's west of the Mississippi operating a comprehensive program offering transitional care for over 500 individuals experiencing homelessness.
The Farm

- 1.5-acre regenerative farm
- Orchard with over 50 fruit trees
- 3 fields with vegetable rows
- Dedicated composting stations
- Natural shaded picnic / seating area
- Jayne's Healing Garden featuring a pollinator habitat with herbs and flowers & free-range hen area
- 1,400 s.f. greenhouse
- Harvest washing station
- Handicap accessibility
- Portable restroom
- Parking lot
This year we will grow ...

Food

- 9,000 lbs of organic, nutrient-dense produce for the shelter and community.
- In our greenhouse we grow high-quality, organic microgreens and herbs for restaurant partners throughout Los Angeles, which helps fund and employ our TEP participants.

Hope

- Through our 100-hour Transitional Employment Program individuals with barriers to employment gain work experience, income, and job skills.
- Over 650 individuals will attend our Food For Life Wellness classes.

Community

- We will engage over 1,000 volunteers in meaningful projects at the Farm.
- We will be offering more farm-based and healing-centered programming for the shelter community and beyond.
Why Corporate Engagement with GrowGood?

Increase your company's visibility as a committed supporter of social impact among our supporters, volunteers, and partners, as well as the broader community.

Increase employee engagement, improve work relationships, increase job satisfaction, reduce stress, improve mood and productivity.

Be part of the solution! With your support, GrowGood can continue to provide fresh, healthy food for underserved communities, promote environmental sustainability, increase access to greenspace for healing purposes, and provide jobs for individuals who have barriers to employment.
GrowGood offers multiple ways of engaging your brand, your employees, and YOU as we work together to make a difference!
