

FAVORITE THINGS

STORY BY JULIA WALLACE

Interior designer Casey Roy creates spaces that are clean, contemporary and comfortable. "I like pieces that evoke emotion," she says. In addition to designing for people, Roy is looking to beautify canine digs. Her second business, Waghaus, sells custom doghouses to coordinate with her clients' homes.

GO ROUND

Substitute sculptural objects such as metallic orbs and urchins in place of framed photographs.

GLOBAL INFLUENCE
With glass globes and polished nickel, the Caviar Cluster chandelier by Laura Kirar is a bright spot in any room.

GOOD LUXE
The chic look of the Yeti faux chinchilla pillow by Zinc Textiles is second only to how good it feels.

BOLD AND GOLD

In triplicate, gold panels from Arteriors are bold and sophisticated, a good alternative to mirrors.

TRANSPARENT DESIGN
The Rivero table by Allan Knight, beautiful on its own, is willing to let an equally stunning rug shine through.

READ UP
California designer Kelly Wearstler's funky, upscale style speaks volumes about modern design, and her books inspire.
