- Disaster Preparation Workshop
  Presented by Multnomah County Emergency Management who will lead the class with a discussion to follow. Deputy Graziano and members of the Citizen Patrol will be in attendance as well.

- EMSWCD Workshop: Attracting Wildlife to Your Property
  Habitat loss is the greatest threat to the survival of wildlife in the U.S. You can make a difference on your own property! Learn how at this free workshop presented by EMSWCD Conservation Specialist, Jon Wagner. Register at emswcd.org/wildlifews or call 503-935-5376.

- Conversation: Fair Share—What Makes a Good Tax?
  People and businesses expect certain public services—“tax” is the word we use to indicate how we pay for these services. This conversation, led by facilitator Mary Nolan, will explore the effects—both intended and unintended—of different types of taxes and invite participants to examine and understand their own ideas and their neighbors’ ideas about the best and worst characteristics of local, state, and federal taxes.

- Storytelling Workshop
  Learn the art of telling your personal narrative with master storyteller Will Hornyak. Truly memorable stories have a mythic quality to them. They provide a window to a larger world through the ordinary moments of our lives. Will will help you use traditional folktales and myths as a backdrop for telling personal stories. Pioneer Monument Relocation Project

The beautiful, moss-covered Pioneer Monument located on the west side of the Grange Hall parking lot, was erected in September, 1940. It includes 70 engraved names of early pioneers followed by 69 names added in 1979. Most of these early Corbettites were Grange members—their names now, recognizable as roads in our community: Littlepage, Hurlburt, Bell, Rickert, Benfield, Rasmussen, and Evans to name a few.

The Grange property was donated by Grange member, Orland Zeek and the new Grange Hall was completed in 1899—soon to become the epicenter of activity in the community. The first Grange members, along with others, helped establish rural mail delivery in the Corbett community, along with electricity in later years. The Grange became influential in politics and helped to set up farmer-owned cooperatives, grain elevators, and factories to manufacture farm machinery.

Crown Point Country Historic Museum (CPCHS) and the Pioneer Association are hoping to preserve this important monument and display it more prominently by moving it to the site of their new museum—being built across from the Corbett Fire Hall. We’ll be considering their request at our 3/3 Membership Meeting.

To learn more about the history of Columbia Grange 267, visit the About section of our website and to learn more about CPCHS visit crownpointcountrymuseum.org. You can help fund the construction of the new museum by attending a CPCHS Fund Raising event on March 6th at the Springdale Tavern!
