Volunteer Caregiver Training

Tara Home is a private cottage on the grounds of Land of Medicine Buddha. Our guests are within the last few months of life, and are under the care management of Hospice of Santa Cruz County.

Volunteers are trained in hands-on caregiving and are provided a rewarding opportunity to cultivate awareness, spiritual presence, and compassion by caring for those at the end of life.

Visit www.tarahome.org to complete an application and begin the training process.

Training on-going.
