

Fast Fixes: Choosing Your Fix

Not sure what to fix? No problem! Below is a list of items you may already have access to around the house that break in any number of ways. Feel free to pick something from this list, or use it as inspiration to come up with something we haven't thought of.

Just remember, your actual fix should be unique (something not already documented on iFixit). So for instance, if someone else has already written a guide for replacing a dead battery in Tickle Me Elmo, you shouldn't duplicate that person's work—but you could write a different guide for Tickle Me Elmo, such as how to replace the internal speaker. You could also use your Tickle Me Elmo to write a more general guide, like how to patch a tear in a stuffed animal. So get to it, and have fun!
