

We are looking for a PR & Communications intern to join our team in Copenhagen.

Full-time internship, to start fall 2017

Johannes Torpe Studios is a design studio providing creative services across interiors, products and architecture for clients worldwide. The team is young and multidisciplinary, the tone is informal and the work environment supportive.

We offer you:

- The chance to become part of a creative, dynamic and professional team within an international and multi-disciplinary design company
- An open and collaborative work environment where hard work is rewarded with responsibility and new challenges
- A full-time 4-6-month internship with hands-on experience in the design industry

You will:

- Create content for our website and social media and maintain our profiles delivering a clear and consistent brand message
- Write project descriptions and press releases
- Develop and execute press strategies, events and outreaches
- Assist Johannes Torpe with coordination of his speech activities around the world
- Maintain press list, collect press clips and create media reports

You are:

- Enthusiastic about PR and Communications and have a natural interest for design and architecture
- Able to identify a good story and tell it to our audience
- Confident, responsible and able to work independently when necessary
- An excellent copywriter and fluent in English
- Currently undertaking a formal education in a relevant area

*It would be considered a plus if you know Photoshop, InDesign and maybe even a bit of video editing.

Please include in your application a motivational letter of no more than 500 words.

Deadline for submission is Friday, July 21st.

All applications must be sent to:
