

Congratulations letter from Prof. Peter Lor, to be read by Benson Njobvu

I write to congratulate Lubuto Library Partners and yourself on the opening of the third Lubuto Library. I am thrilled at the progress that you are making, and especially at the opening of the new Mumuni library in Nabukuyu, in rural Zambia. This represents an important step for Lubuto, the first, I hope, of many more. As a librarian and scholar, I am deeply aware of the importance of books and reading in opening up worlds of opportunity for children everywhere. May Lubuto go from strength to strength, and may the example you set help to spread a network of children's and young people's libraries throughout our continent. Viva!

With warm greetings,

Dr. Peter J. Lor

Extraordinary Professor, Department of Information Science, University of Pretoria
