The month of Elul, which begins on Wednesday, August 27, is a time of anticipation. Its arrival reminds us to begin the process of preparing for the yamim noraim – the High Holy Days – that will begin in one month. We examine our deeds of the past 12 months. We undergo the process of cheshbon ha-nefesh – literally taking an “accounting of our souls” as we end one year and begin another. This is a vitally important process and a key to living a life of spiritual fulfillment.

Here at Temple, we are busy in our preparations for the holidays. As always, we are striving to provide our congregation with a wide variety of experiences and opportunities to experience the yamim noraim on as deep a level as possible.

Once again, I will be sending out my annual Four Weeks of Elul emails that help us to focus on the many ways we experience God’s presence in our lives: through our physical, spiritual, communal and interpersonal selves. We also will have a special section of books available in our library that focus on High Holy Day preparation. Our Selichot services that will take place on Saturday evening, September 20 are always a beautiful way to enter into the holiday mode. Hearing the soaring music of our High Holy Days led by Cantors Heit and Sacks is an especially beautiful treat.

I encourage you to explore the pages of this High Holy Day bulletin and make it a point to experience the many new and ongoing opportunities for worship and preparation we will be offering: From the “al cheit” campaign that Rabbi Immerman writes about in his article, to the Yom Kippur afternoon options that Cantor Sacks has detailed, to study sessions prior to and throughout the holidays – we want you to feel fully prepared for the vital process of teshuvah (repentance).

I also want to call your attention to the fact that the both Rosh Hashanah Unplugged and the Yom Kippur morning Sh’mi Koleinu service will be offered in the sanctuary this year (not in the social hall) in order to allow as many people as possible to attend.

The High Holy Days are a time of homecoming. We want to wish you a “Welcome home!” as we begin an exciting new year of vital Jewish living at Temple Emanuel.

Sue, Elana and Ethan join me in wishing all of you a new year filled with shalom u’vracha — peace and blessing.

L’shanah Tovah
At this time of reflection, repentance and looking toward the future as the Days of Awe approach, the clergy and staff and our families wish you and your families a happy and healthy new year. Our work is made more meaningful because of our opportunity to share it with you, and you enrich our community with your presence.

We look forward to seeing you during the High Holy Day season and throughout the year. If we can be helpful to you now and throughout the year, please do not hesitate to contact us: our doors are always open. L’shanah tovah: may you have a happy and sweet new year.

Interactive High Holy Day Opportunities

By Rabbi Brian Immerman • immerman@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 311

I’ve heard a rumor lately that rabbis dread the High Holy Days. Already in August someone said to me, “I won’t talk to you until late October.” While we are busy preparing, please don’t hesitate to talk to me! The yamim noraim (translated as “days of awe”), serve as powerful moments in our calendar that I look forward to celebrating with the sacred community at Temple Emanuel. The prayers of hope for the coming year and the process of teshuvah anchor me in my Jewish practice. During Elul as I ready myself for this moment and put the finishing touches on my sermons, students return to our building, people return from summer vacations, classes resume and social justice projects regain momentum. I am excited to share two new opportunities for communal reflection to aid our community in this preparation as well.

As you enter the Grape Street entrance, you will see two additions to our lobby: a chuppa and an “al cheit wall. During Elul and the High Holy Days we focus on becoming better people in the coming year, a process called teshuvah. This process often leads us to reflect on our transgressions, for which we repent. We communally say “al cheit shechatanu...” which literally means “for the time we have missed the mark...” followed by a transgression. We invite you to share your own communal and/or personal transgressions, anonymously, either via our website or in our Grape Street Foyer at our “al cheit” wall. A selection of these transgressions will be posted on the wall and will be read aloud during the Shema Koleinu service.

While we make note of the actions we don’t want to repeat, we should also focus on the blessings we hope to achieve or continue in 5775. While we make note of the actions we don’t want to repeat, we should also focus on the blessings we hope to achieve or continue in 5775. In our foyer we also invite you to enter our chupa either by yourself or with family or friends and offer a blessing reflecting on 5774 or preparing for 5775. We invite you to look at our suggestions and add your own.

Hopefully these tools will allow us to all be fully present so that when the shofar sounds on Rosh Hashanah we know who we want to be in the year to come. I pray for a sweet and happy 5775 and I am looking forward to worshipping together.

I remember sitting with Janet Bronitsky as my life was going through a transitional time, and she asked me, “so how’s work?” I told her I would be looking for a new job from the publishing company I had been working at, and she said, “Rabbi Foster is looking for an assistant.” Two weeks later, July 10, 2000, I began my career at Temple Emanuel. I loved being the Rabbis’ Assistant; working closely with Rabbi Foster and the other clergy: Cantor Heit, Rabbi Pollack, Rabbi Cook and seeing the inner workings of a temple. And then six years after that I became the Program Director: a great opportunity for me to learn and grow and serve the Temple and the Jewish community in a new way. That job has morphed into Program/Membership Director with a greater focus on membership engagement and trying to bring to life the temple’s goal of “audacious hospitality.”

But again, it’s a transitional time for me. My boys, Scott (23) and Sam (19) have grown up and out of the house. A new professional challenge has come my way, and with deep gratitude and a great deal of sadness, I find myself leaving Temple. I will always be grateful for the growth afforded to me by Rabbi Foster, Rabbi Black and Janet Bronitsky, not to mention all my wonderful colleagues on staff and across the country. The best part about leaving as a staff member, is that I will remain as a member of the congregational community: one that has nurtured me, truly with audacious hospitality. L’hitraot.

Shwayder@ 65 Celebration

Shwayder Capital Campaign Gift

As Shwayder camp reaches 65 years old, we have made a commitment to keep the Shwayder magic alive and ensure our ability to provide meaningful Jewish camping experiences for youth for years to come. Shwayder Camp has embarked on a capital campaign to raise $3,500,000. We are very proud to announce that Shwayder Camp has received a very generous gift of $250,000 from the Kesher Foundation and Diana Anderson for the capital campaign. Our heartfelt thanks for this commitment to Shwayder Camp.

Each year, as we begin Yom Kippur with Kol Nidre, I prepare myself for the journey of the next 24 hours. For although the entirety of Yom Kippur is a culmination of a larger arc—the entire High Holy Day process—the day itself has its own internal rhythm. The Kol Nidre service introduces us to the themes of Yom Kippur—we remember; we bare our souls; we return. The Yom Kippur morning service pushes us to reflect more deeply on these motifs. But finally, as we reach the afternoon service, each of these ideas fully flowers.

We begin the afternoon service with memory. We lift up our congregation’s history by honoring our past presidents and segue into Yizkor—the time to remember loved ones who have passed. These moments of memory ground us in our journey, cementing our past and defining our origins, both personal and communal.

We then move to the time of deepest repentance—the final chance to bare our souls by reflecting on and apologizing for our past deeds. At this moment in the afternoon service, each member of our congregation has the opportunity to come up on to the bimah and stand before the open ark for a moment of silent reflection. For the past two years, I have watched as many of you have come before the ark in prayer at this moment; it is powerful and inspiring.

And finally, as the sun sinks low and illuminates the stained glass in our sanctuary, we slowly begin to return. The Neilah service charges us to build on our memory and our reflection during the past 24 hours, and to move forward into the coming year with renewed hope and purpose. We must return to our best selves. The music and the liturgy of these waning hours all emphasize that our journey of transformation is almost complete. And here at Emanuel, we conclude our Yom Kippur journey with a joyous, communal havdalah prayer—all of us singing up on the bimah, raising our voices as we return to one another after the long day of introspection.

I hope to see many of you throughout the holidays this year. And I hope to see many of you singing with us on the bimah at the conclusion of Yom Kippur. Shanah tovah un’tukah: may you all have a sweet and happy new year.

Leaving something to Temple Emanuel in the form of a bequest or trust is a wonderful way to help ensure the future of the congregation. Temple is proud that our Live On Society, families who have included Temple in their estate plans, has 102 members. With the Live On Society, Temple Emanuel’s endowment monies continue to grow. Our endowments fund everything from high school trips to Israel (IST), Confirmation class trips, camp scholarships, scholars-in-residence and our library. The funds also help with Temple operations and the purchasing of computers. As a community we are blessed that those who came before us who had the foresight to fund projects that they believed would enrich the Jewish experience of those who followed.

A number of new families have joined our Live On Society. Our thanks to Laurie Abelman, Phyllis & Jeff Adler, Scott Esserman & Mieke Thorson, Danny & Becky Foster, Vikki French, Lara & Frank Knuettel and Trina & Scott Reisch for making a commitment to the future of Temple Emanuel.

If you are interested in adding Temple to your estate plans, contact Francie Miran, Development Manager, at 303.388.4013, ext. 335 or miran@EmanuelDenver.org.

Have you already remembered Temple in your will? Please let us know so that we have the opportunity to acknowledge you.

Wrapping Up Summer
By Rita Dahlke • dahlke@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 346

It's my anniversary! The past two years of working in the library have been very rewarding. I am excited to continue creating fun and engaging programs for you and your families to enjoy.

This past year the library started a Book and Social Club, a Shabbat in the Afternoon program for adults and teens and created a curriculum-based reading program with the ECC. The Religious School continues to use the space and books for story time and research.

Book Club with a Twist: Join us the last Tuesday of the month for lively and interesting discussions as we explore different themes found in Jewish literature.

- Tuesday, August 26, 7:00 p.m. – 8:30 p.m. in the library
  August theme: Intra-faith/culture/race
- Tuesday September 30, 7:00 p.m. – 8:30 p.m. in the library
  September theme: Women & Judaism

Library Book Club Socials: You don't have to come to the book club to join us for the library socials!

- Sunday, August 3 join us for cooking and serving dinner at the Delores Project.
- Upcoming – a night at a comedy club.

Shabbat in the Afternoon: Second Saturday of the month. It is a tradition on Shabbat afternoon to gather for a little study, a bit of food and some good old schmoozing. We will celebrate Shabbat afternoon with a shir (story) from a different country followed by traditional foods from that country. We will say good bye to Shabbat with a Havdalah service.

- Saturday, August 9, 4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.: Thailand
- Saturday, September 13, 4:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.: Morocco hosted by Rita Dahlke

For information about any of the above contact me.

Remember the Gathering Place when you come across those unused greeting cards that you are not using and drop them off in the library. The women really appreciate them!

Have you visited the Free Book cart in the library lately? There are always new titles being added!

Temple's Mental Health Task Force shares information you might find pertinent.

School is starting soon. Is there something about your child's learning or behavior that concerns you? How can you best help your child? Is your child suffering or falling behind in school? Is he having difficulty with basic reading and language skills? Could this mean a learning disability? Is your child always on the move? Impulsive? Could this be Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder? Or does she daydream, have trouble getting her assignments in? This could be the inattentive type of ADHD that is most often seen in girls and is underdiagnosed.

As parents, trust your intuition and advocate for your child. Talk with your child's teacher and the school's specialized professionals to determine how to proceed. When indicated, a timely evaluation is important. Know your child's rights. Get educated. There are private resources outside of the public schools. Did you know there are specialized advocates? Find a support system. Realize your child's special challenges and strengths can affect the whole family.

Resources:
National Council for Learning Disabilities, CHADD (Children and Adults with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, National Institute for Mental Health.

ART EXHIBITION

“L’chaim: The Jewish Experience” is an exhibition that invites Temple members to share their view of Jewish life through fine art and photography. The exhibit will be displayed on the art wall Celebrate Jewish Artists September 12, 2014 through January 9, 2015.

Thank you to the members who have shared their paintings and photography during our first year of Celebrate Jewish Artists: Laurie Abelman, Judy Berlinger, Peggy Brody, Helen Buznedo, Sandi Ogin, Rob Osterburg, Harriet Rosen, Lyndsey Rosenberg, Susie Sigman, Kathy Steinberg, Claudia Trevithick and Cantor Heit who displayed paintings created by her father Judge Gilbert B. Yarchever (z”l).

For more information on how to have your art included in the next exhibit, contact Janet Bronitsky, 303.388.4013, bronitsky@EmanuelDenver.org.
Open House
Sunday, August 24, 10:30 a.m. in the Sisterhood Lounge
Come meet the clergy and staff members of the Temple and find out what’s going on at Temple in the coming year. If you have friends or family who have not yet affiliated with a temple and are looking, encourage them to stop by. No RSVP necessary. Questions? Family Camp
Your family is invited to spend Labor Day weekend, Friday, August 29–Monday, September 1, at Shwayder Camp!
Family Camp is an exciting opportunity for your family to join together with other Temple families for a weekend filled with the serenity of Shabbat, the joy of family time together in the mountains and a strong sense of community. Activities will be planned for all ages, including horseback riding, hiking, archery, arts & crafts, family fun, campfires and free time in the beautiful Shwayder valley. Don’t miss this wonderful opportunity to relax, learn and share time together – high on the slopes of Mt. Evans. For more information, please contact Ron Leff: leff@EmanuelDenver.org.

Anshei (Adult) Mitzvah Class
Begins Thursday, October 23, 6:00 p.m.
This is a fabulous opportunity for those of you who never became a Bar or Bat Mitzvah to read from Torah and help lead a Shabbat evening service. Through this program we create community as well as more life-long learners. As we begin a new year, I invite you to join us on this journey of growth, learning, friendship and community.

What is engagement to me? Well to start, I’ve been an active participant of Temple Emanuel for 31 years! It’s my spiritual home and a special place for me and my family – my husband, Perry and our children Alison and Steven. I started getting involved at Temple when our kids were little and we were involved in Tot Shabbat. In fact, our son, Steven, used to call Temple “Bim Baml!” It still brings a smile to my face every time I approach Temple Emanuel. I’ve been involved in many committees and projects including Sisterhood, the Temple Board, Mitzvah Day and the Rabbinic Search Committee. I am excited to be back on the board and working with President Ellen Abrams, the other amazing board members, and our great staff to further the goal of “Audacious Hospitality” through engagement.

Engagement doesn’t just happen; it takes effort and time. Engagement is not only about coming to Temple for services or programs, but it’s also about getting to know the people around the table, in the room, in the sanctuary or in a class. In order to further the sense of really getting to know one another, over the next year we will be starting every service, program, class or activity with a few minutes to get to know each other, not just learning a name and recognizing a face. When one is truly engaged, the community is more like a family. We are not just members of a congregation, but an integral part in each other’s lives. We work together as a team to be a more giving and caring community. Through this stronger connection we can truly perform gemilut chasadim and ultimately tikkun olam. That’s engagement!

HIGH HOLY DAY GREETERS
Do you want to help greet and direct our guests at High Holy Day worship services? Andy Thangasamy is spearheading the effort to find and place volunteers. If you can help, contact him at andrewthangasamy@gmail.com or 303.832.1958. Thank you in advance!
The month of Elul (August 27 – September 29), is a preparatory period for the High Holy Days. The work of the month of Elul, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur is that of teshuvah. Teshuvah is usually translated as “repentance,” but literally means, “return.” It’s about coming back to where you need to be—emotionally, spiritually, ethically, interpersonally—and repairing any damage you’ve done by straying. The classical literature on teshuvah talks about cheshbon ha-nefesh—the accounting of the soul—that has to happen as part of this process. You can’t come back until you’ve figured out where you’ve gone, and you can’t make amends until you’re clear on where you’ve messed up.

As a parent we are offered ample opportunities to get clear on this. All we need to do is pay attention to who we are and how we are with our children for a couple of hours—a week max—and we’ll get a lot of telling information. When are we attentive? When are we dismissive? When are we pretending to be engaged but are actually checked out (or checking our smartphones)? When are we manipulative or deceitful with our kids, even in little ways that ostensibly “don’t matter”? When do we run out of patience and what does that look like? Children are, among other things, powerful little mirrors, and not all of what they reflect to us about who and how we are is necessarily so comfortable.

But it’s important to reflect. It is our job to try to show up for our children as the best, most loving versions of ourselves. Part of our responsibilities as parents involves protecting and nurturing our kids so that they can grow into their biggest, brightest, holiest selves and to not truncate their spirit even unintentionally.

Maimonides defines perfect teshuvah as that moment when you come to a situation in which you had previously acted badly and, this time, do it right (or at least do it better). Only when you do the transformative work necessary to become a different person do you, naturally and organically, make a different choice. This season offers us a chance to see ourselves, and to do the work to become different people.

On behalf of my family, I wish you and your family a year filled with good health, happiness and Jewish learning.

Religious School Registration
We are busy planning for the 2014-2015 school year! If you haven’t already registered, now is the time. Our Religious School program with strong family education and social justice components provides an enhanced Jewish learning experience for our 550 pre-Kindergarten – 10th graders.

Welcome to Temple Emanuel!

Whether this is your first year here or your fiftieth, we are happy you are choosing to celebrate the High Holy Days with us. We are proud that this is our 140th year as a congregation. Our clergy team: Rabbi Joseph Black, Rabbi Brian Immerman, Cantor Regina Heit, and Cantor Elizabeth Sacks, along with our Executive Director Janet Bronitsky and the entire professional team, has been working hard to offer you many options to celebrate being Jewish. This brochure provides all the details, and we have new opportunities since last year.

Entry Information

This year a personalized Temple Emanuel Membership Card will be mailed to you. Please bring it with you for entry to High Holy Day worship. Children living at home or who are students may accompany their parents. Prospective members and visiting guests are welcome to attend. Large purses, backpacks, etc., are discouraged and may be subject to search or removal.

General Information
- The Forest Street parking lot is reserved for people who have difficulty walking. Please observe posted signs: parking restrictions are enforced.
- Age appropriate programming is available for children ages 2 and older on the first day of Rosh Hashanah and on Yom Kippur (reservations required for ages 2 - first grade for the High Holy Day Experience), as well as childcare during all services (no reservations required).
- Closed-circuit broadcast of the sanctuary services will be available in the Social Hall for overflow as well as for parents with small children and infants.
- Members planning to be guests of other communities should contact the Temple office prior to the holidays to obtain entrance into other communities’ worship opportunities.

Spirited musical worship continuing the celebration of the New Year. Feiner Chapel

Tashlich
Following Second Day Rosh Hashanah worship, we symbolically cast away our sins by throwing pieces of bread into the lake to prepare ourselves for Yom Kippur. Please bring your own bread. Lollipop Lake at S. Holly St. and Cherry Creek Drive South

Shabbat Shuvah
The Shabbat between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur is called the “Shabbat of returning.” This acknowledges the fact that we are in a time of t’shuvah—returning to be the very best versions of ourselves. Feiner Chapel

Kol Nidre
The Yom Kippur evening worship service, so-called because of the prayer which begins Yom Kippur. Doors close promptly. Sanctuary

Sh’ma Koleinu: Hear Our Voices
Capture the spiritual beauty of the Day of "At-One-ment" in a unique service that will feature creative liturgy, visual t’filah, and lots of music and community singing. Sh’ma Koleinu: Hear Our Voices will be led by Steve Brodsky, Cantor Sacks, Rabbi Black and Ron Leff. Rabbi Black will deliver the sermon. The service is open to all members of Temple and appropriate for families with school-aged children. Sanctuary

Yom Kippur Study Sessions
Session I: This Is Real and You Are Completely Unprepared
There are moments in life when one is caught utterly unprepared. Are the High Holy Days one of those moments for you? We will consider and discuss Rabbi Alan Lew’s literary exploration of the High Holy Days — This Is Real and You Are Completely Unprepared: The Days of Awe as a Journey of Transformation. Lew takes the reader on a journey of spiritual transformation, “from birth to death and back to renewal again.” Led by Cantor Elizabeth Sacks. Social Hall

Session II: Jewish Justice: A Panel Discussion
Explore the meanings and nuances of justice, repentance, and forgiveness with a panel of justice professionals, moderated by Rabbi Steven Foster. Discuss how these themes relate to the liturgy of Yom Kippur and our own lives. Feiner Chapel

Meditation
Spend some time on Yom Kippur afternoon between services in meditation, led by Eileen Yager. Seminar Room

Yom Kippur Afternoon, Yizkor, Neilah & Havdalah Worship
The dramatic conclusion to Yom Kippur afternoon filled with t’shuvah, music, hope, and the story of Jonah, followed by the Yizkor service, and concluding with Neilah and Havdalah. Rabbi Steven Foster will deliver the Yizkor sermon. Stay for a light break-fast. Sanctuary
Suggestions for Your High Holy Day Experience

Traditional Experience
Complete with the music and the familiar style of worship featuring our outstanding cantors, organ, and choir:

New Beginnings
By Susan Wartchow • wartchow@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 319

My first few months here at Temple Emanuel ECC have been such a joyous experience! I have been welcomed by the staff, children, parents, administration and Temple members. I have truly encountered the Temple’s focus on “audacious hospitality.” In keeping with that central theme, we in the Early Childhood Center are developing ideas and concepts to enhance that sense of community within our own program.

Summer flew by and the children had a wonderful time with much outdoor play centered on water, sand and sun. It is hard to believe that autumn is peeking around the corner. As we head into the fall season, we look forward to creating a safe and nurturing school family for the children we care for, to providing our teaching staff with dynamic and inspiring continuing education and in constructing community for every family that enters our school.

With September comes the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah. We look forward to eating apples and honey, making New Year’s cards and listening to the sounds of the shofar.

Welcome!
We welcome the following members to our Temple family:

• Ronald Bloom and Helen Murphy
• Becca Cooper and Quinn Barry
• Marvin W. Goldman
• Elizabeth Milligan
• Paul and Lisa Pilzer, Miriam, Maxwell, Michael and Mark
• Roger and Beverly Simon
• Elliot and Barbara Troy
• Susan Weinstock

Shwayder 2014
By Jodie Abrams, Shwayder Camp Director • abrams@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 314

Our 65th season at Shwayder Camp has been amazing! From zip lines to horse rides, ga-ga to Israeli dancing, over 500 campers have experienced “a summer to build their lives on.” Beyond the traditional Shwayder Camp experience, our 2014 campers and staff were treated to concerts from Jewish rock stars such as Michelle Citrin, Noam Katz, Naomi Less and Sheldon Low. Needless to say, we rocked the Shwayder Valley like never before. Thanks to our amazing Israeli staff and the support of the community, this summer also saw an expansion in our understanding and appreciation of Israeli culture and history.

Registration for the 2015 season will begin in November, so look forward to hearing from us!

GOT TUNA?
Jewish Family Service depends on us for tuna. Thank you for continuing to bring in cans of tuna when you come to Temple!

The installation of Sisterhood’s 2014-2015 officers on Thursday, May 29 was a fabulous event. I am so honored to serve as president for the next two years and look forward to working with the amazing women who comprise our board, including our newest board members, Alise Boxer, Lori Bauer, Lisa Hardin and Claudia Trevithick. I would like to thank all those that attended and brought yummy treats. I especially want to thank my committee, Cindy Friedland, Ellen Lemberg, Mary Lee Mohr, Fredi Novin, Ellen Rice, Susan Samuel and Stephanie Zorensky.

*Lshanah tovah from the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel. We wish you all a happy and healthy new year. Please support us when you see your pink envelopes in the mail. Your dues help support the Temple, our youth and the larger Reform Jewish community.

Rachel Schwartz Award
Congratulations to the 2014 Rachel Schwartz Award winner, Randi Velick. Randi is the daughter of Doug and Lisa Velick, and the sister of Aidin and Charli. The award is named after Rachel Schwartz, a dedicated educator at Temple who later became the Religious School Director. Randi was voted by her peers as showing the most leadership of the 2014 Confirmation Class. Mazel tov, Randi!

Holiday Gifts for College Students
Do you have a new or continuing college student? Sisterhood loves to stay in touch with them by sending cards and gift packages throughout the school year to let them know we are thinking about them. To have us send something to your student, contact Jamie Idelberg at Jamiei@comcast.net or 303.721.9637 with their name, address and e-mail address, even if they were on our list last year.

Robert G. Milstein Award
We would like to congratulate this year’s recipient of the Robert G. Milstein Award which is given annually to the male confirmand of the year. This year’s winner was Eliot McKelvy. Eliot received the award based on the recommendation of his fellow confirmands. The Brotherhood would like to congratulate Eliot on his achievement, and wish him the best of luck in the future.

The Brotherhood will be presenting our annual scholarship awards at a Shabbat service on Friday, August 8. Please plan on attending and help us congratulate our scholarship winners!
KADDOISH LIST

The names listed below are taken from the memorial plaques in the Meditation Room. Names are read at the Friday evening and Saturday morning Shabbat services following the date of death. To find out how to purchase a plaque, contact Shannon Luedke, ext. 308. To have other names read on a Friday evening, call the Temple by Friday noon.
