Talking It Out

By Rabbi Joseph R. Black • black@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 308

On Yom Kippur, I spoke about the power of words and the way that we use them to both build bridges and create divides. In my remarks, I lamented about the fact that it has become increasingly difficult to address difficult topics in our bifurcated society. One key arena in which this is keenly felt is that of race relations. On Kol Nidre, I said the following:

“It is hard to acknowledge or affirm the trepidation and fear that people of color endure daily. And yet, a systematic and deeply ingrained pattern of prejudice exists that is part and parcel—not only of our nation’s history but is also very real on the streets of our cities and the back alleyways of daily life.”

In the past, members of our congregation have engaged in dialogue around addressing the complex and painful racial divides in our community. We have learned that before we can open up to and engage in meaningful dialogue with others, we must first engage in a process of understanding how our fears and mistrust can often be a source of self-sabotage.

During the month of November, Temple Emanuel will be hosting an exhibit entitled: “Talking It Out: Getting to Agreement.” This powerful exhibit seeks to decrease violence and increase creativity and productivity for problem solving in a wide variety of situations, including inter-personal relationships, communities, organizations, and businesses. Our congregant, Mary Zinn, President and founder of Zinn Mediation Associates, has commissioned a unique set of photos and stories that features Coloradans working together to solve problems such as these. The exhibit illustrates seven distinct stories of people and communities that have made a choice to solve their problems constructively.

As a kickoff to the exhibit, on Friday night, November 2, following services, we will be sponsoring a congregational dinner and discussion facilitated by former State Senator Linda Newell—a dynamic leader, teacher, filmmaker, peacemaker, and pioneer in building bridges between diverse communities. During the evening, Senator Newell will help us to begin the process of unpacking our own prejudices while addressing pathways of understanding. It is my hope that this will be the beginning of a series of conversations and programs that will allow us to understand the fears that prevent us from exploring the difficult issues that divide us a society.

Information on this special evening can be found in this bulletin. I hope to see you there.

L’shalom (in peace…)

The “Talking It Out” exhibition includes examples of ways to diffuse conflict and solve problems.

Mental Health Panel Discussion

9:30 am - The Still, Small Voice: A Panel Conversation on Judaism, Mental Health, and Creating a Caring Community

Patti Linsky had been the Cantor at Temple Ahavat Shalom for over 24 years when a life-threatening condition derailed her plans and dreams for the future. Patti realized that a consequence of her surgery, which nearly took her life, was that her singing voice had been compromised.

She was forced to look within, “If I am not a Cantor, then who am I?” With that question, she embarked on her spiritual quest, searching for her next chapter. Being “enough” is pinnacle to Patti’s spiritual awakening. Her story is one of passion for music and religious commitment. It is also a story of battling addictions, self-worth, recovery and ultimately redemption. As a performer, writer, and teacher, Patti shares her story through her very personal compositions peppered with her unique humor, wisdom and zest for life.
As mentioned on my Rosh Hashanah sermon on “Aloneness, Loneliness, and Interconnectedness” (www.emanueldenver.org/about/clergy/#baskin), my focus at Temple is on connections with special affinity groups to bring us together and help us connect deeply on our life’s journeys and the magic that Judaism can play in creating meaning. Here are some of the groups I’m involved with which are tentatively named and in formation:

Anshei Mitzvah/Adult Bnai Mitzvah

Designed for adults who are seeking to renew their connection with God and community in maturity, after finding little spiritual energy in the Judaism of their youth and/or for adults who were not born into Jewish families who are finding themselves attracted to Jewish spiritual life and seek initiation into a Judaism that feels compelling and meaningful. You will learn how to:

- understand Torah as it speaks in your own life, and share your own D’var Torah—an interpretation of your own—with others;
- (if you can already read Hebrew) chant a passage from the Torah Scroll not by rote but with your own understanding of that passage;
- celebrate Shabbat in depth;
- celebrate old and new ceremonies of your own life-spiral, and shape your own celebrations of moments when the Spirit speaks deeply in your life;
- celebrate as grown-ups the spirals of the Jewish festival year;
- understand and renew the structure of prayer, so as to enter your own conversation with the Divine;
- act Jewishly to heal the broken places of your heart (tikkun ha’lev) and of the world (tikkun olam).

The program starts Saturday, November 10 at 12:30 p.m. with our Jewish journey group after Torah study, community services and Kiddush luncheon, plus Thursday nights in November and December for Hebrew with Rita Dahlke for those who need to build their Hebrew reading skills and then in the new secular year for prayer skills and ceremony preparations for the Saturday, October 14, 2019 (Sukkot Day 1) B’nai Mitzvah Ceremony!

Free Birds (for those whose children have flown the nest and are rediscovering the opportunities in their lives)

Building on their recent inaugural fall retreat at Shwayder, we are planning on Saturday, November 17, 7:00 p.m., with a special game night and havdallah at the home of Ron Colson and Karen Paul. Saturday, December 8, 7:00 p.m., our next program is a film “Chanukah, the real story: what they never dared to teach you at Sunday school, at the home of David and Marla Brown. BYOMenorah. For directions and RSVP email baskin@EmanuelDenver.org. Future gatherings plan to address: decluttering our lives, boundaries with parents and children, self-care, sandwich generation & distance guilt, and maintaining healthy relationships with our children and loved ones.

Caring Community (for those who want to do the mitzvah of visiting the sick, bikkur cholim, and caring for other congregants), re-organization and training will meet Wednesday, December 12 from 6:30–8:00 p.m. in Room D.

Jewbilees (Adult singles group for those in their fifties and sixties)

Bereavement Group (formerly Grief Group) Tuesday evenings from 6:30–8:00 p.m. beginning Tuesday, October 30. Contact Laurie Picus, MSW at lpicus44@gmail.com.

Divorce Group beginning in February contact Arleen Gershen, MSW at arleen48@aol.com.

Spiritual support groups co-led by social workers and myself to integrate clinical counseling insights with four thousand years of Jewish tradition (for those bereaved with complicated mourning and divorced), RSVP baskin@EmanuelDenver.org.

I look forward to connecting with you as we grow together in the New Year!
The first celebrations of the New Year were a true reflection of our vibrant community. The sukkah was bursting with congregants honoring the holiday throughout the week and it culminated with our joyous Simchat Torah celebration that filled the sanctuary with dancing, music, and prayer!

On the bimah for their first Temple Emanuel High Holidays were Rabbi Emily Hyatt and Rabbi Elliot Baskin. We are so blessed to have them join our happy Temple Emanuel family; and we hope you take the opportunity to get to know them throughout the coming year.

With the High Holy Days just behind us, I want to acknowledge the work of our amazing team. As you can imagine, it takes an incredible amount of thoughtful planning, preparation, and energy to create the beautiful and moving experiences that we all enjoy at Temple Emanuel and Shwayder Camp. Our entire team works tirelessly to provide a multitude of services and programs that allows individuals to connect spiritually, each in their own unique way. And for that I would like to extend my gratitude and acknowledge our clergy, our Rabbi Emeritus, our Cantor Emerita, Executive Director Emerita, and our Shwayder Camp team. In addition, our youth programming attracts more kids each year and we appreciate this year’s incredible feedback from the families. Thank you to our education staff for their vision and orchestration which made this a special time for our young families.

I also would like to thank our dedicated professional staff for their tireless efforts in helping make the High Holy Days run so smoothly. I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge specifically the hard work of Cairo Lopez and his custodial staff along with Adrian Gebrehiwet and his security team.

I would also like to extend a heartfelt thank you to our Board of Trustees, our past presidents, and countless volunteers. Thank you; we could not do it without you!

I’ll close by saying that we all love the work that we do. It is our life’s purpose. It is our mission to help you make Temple a central and meaningful part of your life, as you are what brings life to Temple Emanuel.

We look forward to seeing you often throughout the year. If you are trying to find a way to get involved that suits you, please feel free to call me or our Director of Adult Engagement, Sarah Brown, so that we can help to make your connection to Temple Emanuel meaningful.

Interfaith Thanksgiving Worship

Thursday, November 22, 10:00-11:00 a.m., Temple Emanuel

Join us for spirited and meaningful worship centered on the value of gratitude and displaying the many similarities among the traditions of our partners in faith. As the host congregation this year, we are excited to welcome all of our friends of faith with our passion and hospitality. The service will include participatory singing with Cantor Sacks, Steve Brodsky, and the Temple Emanuel house band, a story for the children, a Thanksgiving address by Rabbi Black, and a chance to meet and learn from many other Denver clergy. We will conclude the morning with a delicious cookie oneg.
It Takes a Village

By Mark Idelberg • Board President, on behalf of the Board of Trustees

As always, our High Holiday Days services this year were filled to the brim with beauty and inspiration. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I’d like to recognize those whose efforts made this possible. First, thanks to The Ruby and Michael, Erma and Nate Baum Pulpit Fund, The Carl and Richard Tucker Music Fund, and Richard and Marcia Robinson and Edward and Susan Robinson for their ongoing financial support of our worship services. Thanks to all of our professional musicians and choir for again sharing their incredible talents with us, as well as to those who provided technical support this year—Craig Roush and Dan Sjaastad, who handled our sound in the sanctuary and Doug Velick and Spectrum Audio Visual, who handled the visual tefillah.

Our clergy team, led by Rabbi Black, Cantor Sacks, Rabbi Hyatt, Rabbi Baskin, and Steve Brodsky, created a variety of adult worship experiences to challenge and move us, while Zach Rolf and Megan Garrett did the same for our children and teens. Steve Brodsky and camp director Jodie Abrams ensured that Rosh Hashanah was again a truly spiritual experience at Shwayder Camp. Meanwhile, Steve Stark and his staff handled all of the logistical and operational matters behind the scenes with their usual professionalism and cheerfulness. To all of you, a sincerely heartfelt thanks. I’d also like to express our sincere gratitude to Dr. Eli Sacks, Denver Chief of Police Paul Pazen, Lara Knuettel, Rabbi Jay Strear, and Lindy Eichenbaum Lent for their inestimable contributions to our Yom Kippur afternoon programming.

Thank you to the almost 50 individuals who served as ushers and to Andy Thangasamy for coordinating that effort. They are always wonderful ambassadors and provide valuable assistance as needed. We are also indebted to the individuals providing security for all of us. A huge thank you is also in order for our building and grounds crews, led by Cairo Lopez, who work hard to make our worship spaces so beautiful and functional during the holidays and throughout the year.

Finally, thanks to all of you, our congregants, for the wonderful feelings of ruach and hospitality that were clearly in the air this High Holy Days season. My best wishes to you for a happy and healthy New Year.

Tax-Wise Philanthropy
By Francie Miran • miran@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 335

As you begin to contemplate your year-end donations, consider donating appreciated securities – stocks, bonds, mutual fund shares. These are excellent options when making charitable gifts, offering tax advantages that might not exist when donating cash. To illustrate the impact, please consider the following example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Charitable Donation</th>
<th>Cash Gift</th>
<th>Gift of Appreciated Stock (appreciated stock, cost basis of $2,000)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$10,000</td>
<td>$10,000</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>$7,600</td>
<td>$6,400</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

As you can see, your tax benefit can be increased by donating appreciated securities instead of cash. In this example, a donor avoids paying capital gains tax on the stock’s appreciated value, but still enjoys a charitable deduction for its full fair market value.

To learn more about donating appreciated assets, please contact Francie Miran at miran@EmanuelDenver.org or 303.388.4013, x335.

Family Promise

By Family Promise Co-Chairs • Lori Kalata, Deb Mayworm, Susie Moss &, Sherry Stark

Christmas comes to Temple Emanuel again this year as we host Family Promise guests during December 23-30. Want to play Santa? There are many ways to help bring Christmas to these families, who are experiencing homelessness at the toughest time of the year.

- Set up and decorate the bedroom, dining and play areas. Each bedroom gets a miniature Christmas tree.
- Cook and/or serve festive meals or bring in homemade holiday treats.
- Spend time with our guests, playing games, reading stories, or making crafts. Last year, Rabbi Black led a sing-along on Christmas Day.
- Shop for Christmas gifts. Along with presents for the families who’ll be staying at Temple Emanuel, we can contribute gifts for the citywide Family Promise Christmas party, where all Family Promise families – past and present – are invited.
- Make a cash donation to support Family Promise at Temple Emanuel all year long. In addition to food and other donated items, we typically have cash expenses of about $750 to $1,000 for each host week.

To volunteer, donate, or learn more about each of these volunteer opportunities, visit our webpage at www.emanueldenver.org/social-justice/family-promise.

Adult Engagement News

By Sarah Brown • brown@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 305

We have an exciting two months of programs coming up! In November we are beginning our series How to Jewish... in partnership with ITJ and Honeymoon in Israel. Join Temple Emanuel staff and teachers throughout the Denver Jewish Community as we learn how to celebrate Shabbat in our homes in a meaningful way on Tuesday, November 6 at 7:00 p.m. For more information look on our website at www.emanueldenver.org/Learning.

On Friday, November 16 we will be celebrating our New Members at Temple Emanuel. A Shabbat dinner is planned that evening with Artist-in-Residence, Patti Linsky who will give a presentation about mental health and Judaism. Dinner is open to the entire community. Everyone is encouraged to join us not only at Shabbat dinner, but throughout the weekend. Cantor Linsky will also be presenting during Torah Study on Saturday morning, a one woman show on Saturday evening, and a panel discussion about mental health on Sunday, November 18 at 9:30 a.m. Make reservations for Shabbat dinner at www.EmanuelDenver.org.

In December we continue with Keeping it Reel with Robyn and the movie Ida on Thursday, December 6 and our second annual Chinese Food and Movie Night on Friday, December 21. We will be showing a family friendly film as well as a movie that would appeal more to adults. Make your reservation at www.emanueldenver.org/calendar.

New affinity groups are forming: LGBTQ families, Singles 40-55, new Comers to Denver, and Single Parents. Look for more information in e-notes or contact me at brown@EmanuelDenver.org or 303.388.4013, x305.

Emanuel’s Knit Night with Karen & friends
If you are interested in learning how to knit, or want to join a group who enjoy knitting come to Emanuel’s Knit Night. We will discuss ideas from The Knitting Way: A guide to Spiritual Self-Discovery by Linda Skolnick and Janice Macdaniels. This group is for beginner knitters. Learn knitting basics: casting on and off, and knit and purl stitch. By the end of session you will be able to knit a scarf. No class on November 20 for Thanksgiving. Bring a ball of Worsted Weight yarn and size 8 knitting needles.

Sunday, November 18, 2:00 – 4:00 p.m.
Book Chat with Author Shachar Pinsker, A Rich Brew: How Cafes Created Modern Jewish Culture
A Rich Brew gives a glimpse into the world of the coffee house and its role shaping modern Jewish culture. Explore Jewish culture created in these social spaces, drawing on a collection of newspaper articles, memoirs, photographs, and more. Coffee importer, Cynthia Demas from Costa Rica will walk us through the process of selecting the right coffee beans and explain the difference between light and dark roasted coffee. Voice lessons for Parents, What to Say, How to Say, and When to Listen by Wendy Mogul, Ph.D.
Dr. Mogul’s book offers an essential guide to the new art of talking to your children from early childhood through adolescence. Can a change in tone and demeanor really transform a relationship between parent and child? Join Zach Rolf for a discussion and the answer to this question. The book is available in the library and on Amazon for you to read ahead of time.

Looking for volunteer(s) to lead a Jewish history of Colorado series. RSVP to dahlke@EmanuelDenver.org
At Temple Emanuel, we work incredibly hard to create opportunities for our members of all ages to engage in creating unique Jewish experiences. Whether it be through our dynamic Rabbi Steven Foster Early Learning Center, our growing Religious School program, our exciting Youth Groups, the regular opportunities for adult study, or the imaginative congregational programs and series offered throughout the year, there is something for everyone. If there's not, we’re dedicated to creating it!

In addition to everything going in within our congregational community, we also are always looking to create strategic partnerships with other Jewish organizations to offer uniquely special experiences to our families. One program, run by the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ) is Mitzvah Corps. Mitzvah Corps is dedicated to providing Jewish teens from all over North America with the opportunity to engage in meaningful social justice work. Their summer experiences last from ten days to six weeks and happen all over the globe. If you are (or know of) a teen that would be interested in being involved with meaningful summer opportunities like these, please be in touch with me or Megan Garrett, our Director of Youth Engagement, so we can help you select the trip that makes the most sense for you.

We are so proud that three of our highly motivated teens traveled to the Pacific Northwest this past summer to participate in a two-week program together. We are even more proud to share with you, in their words, the impact that this trip had on their lives as Jewish teens.

Two weeks in Seattle loomed ahead of us. We were unsure of what was in store for us, but we did know that we were going to be working with 30 other Jewish teens and volunteering with a small refugee community outside of Seattle.

We were greeted at the airport by two energetic adults and met half of the group, while the rest of the teens waited at the dorms with the other two leaders. After a short bus ride to University of Washington, we met everyone that we would be with for the two weeks. We did some ice breakers, but little did we know how close everyone would become by the time the trip ended. We spent our first week as tourists; getting to know Seattle. We walked along the waterfront, went to the Seattle Center, went thrifting around neighborhoods, and learned about the city through visiting a couple of museums. Though our main purpose was to volunteer, it may seem tangential to be exploring the city; however, we gained critical experience of the city that the people we were serving lived in. We had no idea of the memories we would make, the impact we would create for the community, the songs that would be sung, and the laughs that we would share.

Towards the end of the first week, we volunteered in the community garden along with some adults and teens that lived in Tukwila. Garden plots were allotted to each refugee family to emulate the experience of growing your own food, a tradition and element of life that was very common back in their home countries. It was an amazing experience to see how hard the gardeners worked and how they maximized the space given to them in creative ways. We also visited Jewish Family Service of Seattle to hear about the work that they were doing in the city and how the International Rescue Committee complimented their work.
We all went into the week of volunteering with basic knowledge about refugees in America and the struggles they faced. We drove to the camp and prepared and set up the activities for the campers. Twenty-five eager campers came walking down the road from their morning at summer school. Some kids were nervous, and some were excited. We greeted them with posters and excited cheers. Throughout the week we played different games, created art, played sports, and engaged in other activities lead by organizations in the community. The kids programmed robots, engaged in theater activities, and so much more. Camp was an opportunity for the kids to be kids, and a chance for them to forget about their past challenges. At the end of the week, we were saddened to leave such a great group of kids, and many of them shared the same feelings. While the trip had ended, our awareness about refugees would last far into the future.

The experience that we had on Mitzvah Corps Pacific Northwest was extremely meaningful; however, what we got out of it was not unique to our Mitzvah Corps trip. On every trip the team works to create an experience that will not only create an impact for the community, but also create an impact for the teens. The trips also focus on looking at the community through a Jewish lens, and how to strengthen your Jewish identity. We would highly recommend that prospective participants investigate the variety of trips that Mitzvah Corps offers based on our great experience in the Pacific Northwest. We all agree that these two weeks were well spent and were filled with change, both personally and within the community we served.

Emmie: I found out about Mitzvah Corps simply by googling social justice Jewish teen trips. I wanted a new experience. I had been at a Jewish sleepaway camp as a kid but had gotten too old to attend. I wanted a new experience, with a new community, and to do meaningful work. The experiences that I had at camp prepared me to go on Mitzvah Corps, but I would never have known how amazing the experience would be. The experience that I had at Mitzvah Corps Pacific Northwest was able to be stronger because of my experiences from camp. I loved my experience at Mitzvah Corps and plan to go back next year. It was an incredible and meaningful way to meet like-minded teens from across the nation who wanted to create change. Though I don’t know which of the life changing trips I will go on next, I can’t wait to see what meaningful work I can do next summer!

Andrew: Mitzvah Corps was a program that I have participated in for three consecutive summers. I really enjoyed learning about issues in different communities and taking direct action. Additionally, we would discuss why we were doing the work to understand the impact. The programing was engaging, the staff have been excellent, and my peers on the trips have become some of my closest friends. I was inspired to return for three summers because of the supportive and amazing community that we form and the impact we bring to communities in need.

Bella: My experience in Seattle this summer with Mitzvah Corps was a great addition to the Jewish experiences I have participated in thus far. While I have participated in a range of Jewish activities, Mitzvah Corps was my first Jewish social justice program. The second week of the program, we ran a summer camp for kids in a refugee community. The first day I connected with a young boy who had recently moved to Seattle from Australia but was born in Iraq (his name has been removed to protect his anonymity). In talking to him, I learned about his hobbies, the book he was reading, and what he learned at summer school. He was quite talkative with me, yet very shy in the group setting. So, when he would hesitate to participate, I would encourage him to try to join that activity. As the week went on, I watched him participate more in the group activities, try new things, and meet other kids. Not only was he growing from the camp, but I was too. I was learning more about young kids that had faced extreme adversity and their stories. Seeing the joy in the kids’ faces while they played games and engaged in new activities was priceless. Mitzvah Corps is an incredible program and I recommend it to anyone that is interested in exploring social justice issues within a Jewish program!
For five generations, Shwayder Camp has provided a place where Jewish values and traditions can flourish and grow, and we now ask for your assistance to continue the Shwayder Magic. It’s not just time to provide “A Summer to Build Your Life On” but to use your legacy to provide “A Lifetime of Summers.” Join us in ensuring a future of Shwayder Magic by including Shwayder Camp in your legacy plans.

All of us, regardless of age, wealth, or affiliation have the ability to leave a legacy. Your legacy gift can be customized to fit your lifestyle, family and financial interests. The most common method of leaving a legacy is through a will or estate plan, Also:

- You can add (or change) a beneficiary designation on a retirement fund or life insurance policy. This is the easiest option.
- Your legacy commitment can be a percentage of a specific dollar amount.
- Some gifts can be structured to increase your current income.

These people are using their legacy to provide a lifetime of summers at Shwayder Camp. If their generosity inspires you, please consider making your own legacy gift.

“Shwayder Camp has impacted my Jewish life as a camper, staff member and parent in immeasurable ways. My time there shaped my friendships as well as my Jewish identity. I am thrilled to have made the choice to ensure that Shwayder continues providing life-changing experiences for future generations.”

— Rob Baumgarten

“Camp has become a central part of our family narrative. We met at Shwayder Camp and got engaged there. Our daughter had her bat mitzvah there. We both created lifelong friendships and we’re now watching our kids go. This commitment informed our decision to create an estate gift. We want to help preserve the Camp even in times of financial challenge. This is our gift to Temple Emanuel and to a stronger Jewish community.”

— Mieke Thorson & Scott Esserman

Chanukah, not surprisingly, is a big deal in the world of early childhood. With that said, we try diligently to make meaningful connections for our young friends. Some BIG IDEAS or enduring understandings we connect with Chanukah are:

- Being brave
- Freedom
- Miracles
- Light

We then ask essential questions around these ideas:

- What does it mean to be brave? Can you think of a time you were brave?
- What does it feel like to be free? How are you free?
- What does a miracle look like? Do you know of any miracles?
- What is light? Where does it come from? How can you make light? What does it mean to have a light inside of you?

By asking meaningful questions, it not only honors children's thoughts and ideas but expands upon their understanding of a concept and enables them to make connections about the world around them. And it all starts with an idea like Chanukah!

Brotherhood News

By Will Trachman • wtrachman@gmail.com • brotherhood@EmanuelDenver.org

The Brotherhood had an active summer in 2018 and looking forward to a great fall. Our softball team finished with a respectable 6-6 record, losing a heartbreaking game in the playoffs. The High Holy Days ushering program, run by Andy Thangasamy, was a great success, welcoming members into worship for Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur. Thanks to all the brothers who helped grill for the first day of Religious School. We fed a lot of hungry minds! Be on the lookout for more activities. If you’re thinking about joining, contact Will Trachman at wtrachman@gmail.com.

Temple Emanuel Annual Fundraising Concert

Saturday, January 26, 2019, 7:30 p.m.

Join us for our Annual Fundraising Concert as we welcome singer-songwriter icon Marc Cohn in concert and honor the leaders of our Shwayder Camp Capital Campaign, David Foster and Michael Staenberg.

Marc Cohn in Concert

After winning a Grammy for his soulful ballad “Walking in Memphis,” Marc Cohn solidified his place as one of this generation’s most compelling singer-songwriters, combining the precision of a brilliant tunesmith with the passion of a great soul man. Rooted in the rich ground of American rhythm and blues, soul and gospel and possessed of a deft storyteller’s pen, he weaves vivid, detailed, often drawn-from-life tales that evoke some of our most universal human feelings: love, hope, faith, joy, heartbreak. Visit Marc’s website, www.marccohnmusic.com to learn more about him and his music.

Special Honorees

We are pleased that we be honoring the two men that made our dream for the rebuilding of Shwayder Camp a reality—David Foster and Michael Staenberg, the leaders of our capital campaign.
