As you know, the State of Colorado recently elected several Jews to prominent positions in our state government. Our Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State and several other important leaders are MOT’s (“members of the tribe”). One of the key themes of the festival of Purim revolves around Jewish leadership. In the Megillah, we read of how a strong Jewish woman named Esther ascended to the throne of the Kingdom of Shushan. From her position of power, she was able to thwart the evil plans of our arch-enemy Haman (BOO!) and save both her people and her kingdom from the perils of what we might today call legislative overreach.

As such, it is quite appropriate that this year, our Purim activities will revolve around two themes:

- Powerful Jews
- In honor of Queen Esther, we will be featuring music of the rock band, Queen.

This year, on Wednesday, March 20—Erev Purim—we will be pulling out all the stops with activities for all ages.

The evening will begin with dinner and a magic show—followed by our family-friendly Purim shpiel, which will feature our Clergy and staff rocking out to the music of Freddie Mercury. We will rock you with dance, song, and retelling the story of Purim.

Following the shpiel, we will once again be holding our adults-only “Latke Hamentashen Debate.” For those not familiar with this tradition, it is customary to invite prominent individuals in the community to debate the relative merits of these holiday delicacies—the latke and the hamentashen. We are thrilled to announce that Governor Jared Polis and State Attorney General Phil Weiser have agreed to face off against one another at our Purim festivities.

In addition to the debate, we also will feature live music, excellent libations (both alcoholic and non-alcoholic) delicious food and fun for all.

You will not want to miss this.

You can find all of the information included in this bulletin. Make sure you reserve your places now. You won’t want to miss it.
INSIDE TEMPLE

A New Clergy Learning Series
By Cantor Elizabeth Sacks • sacks@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 309

We are excited to announce the launch of a new clergy learning series. Throughout the year, members of our clergy team will offer a variety of 4–8 session weekly learning experiences. From ancient texts to modern poetry, contemporary conversations to meaning through music, each short series will be taught by a different member of the clergy team and explore a different topic area that can inform and transform our lives. In addition, we will rotate the times and location of these series so that we can reach out and engage everyone in our congregational community where they are. We are blessed with a large and dynamic congregation; but we know that one of the challenges we face is our ability to have on-going in-depth conversations among smaller groups within our Temple Emanuel community. We hope that through these learning opportunities, we will have the chance to build meaningful relationships with many of you while engaging in the passion and wisdom of our Jewish tradition.

Kick-Off
Hebrew Poetry with Rabbi Black
Thursday, April 4, 11, 18, 25
12:00 p.m., Temple Emanuel

Our first Clergy Learning Series will be Hebrew Poetry with Rabbi Black—Thursdays in April at 12:00 p.m. at Temple Emanuel. I am excited to be teaching our May series—stay tuned for more information. We are all looking forward to learning with and learning from all of you.

Mind, Body, and Soul:
A Partnership Series with Rose Medical Center

As we approach Passover, we are excited to enter into our second unit of our adult engagement partnership series with Rose Medical Center. This unit focuses on the body and explores the link between physical health and spirituality. On Passover, we are commanded to rid ourselves of chametz—leavened bread. Our tradition has often understood chametz to also refer to feeling bloated and heavy with our physical selves. Through the speakers and services below, we will question and explore how our physical health affects our spiritual selves.

Guest Shabbat Speaker: Vijay Subbarao, MD, FACC, Cardiologist/Nutritionist — Friday, April 12, 6:00 p.m.
Vijay Subbarao, MD, FACC, grew up in India and attended the Mahatma Gandhi Institute of Medical Sciences. He completed his residency and fellowship at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston, Texas in 2006. At UTMB, he was named the Best Resident in Internal Medicine. Dr. Subbarao’s major medical interest is in providing quality and compassionate patient care, and he is a strong supporter of evidence-based medicine. In 2017, Dr. Subbarao was named Top Cardiovascular Disease Top Doctor by 5280 Magazine for the 10th year in a row.

Outside of his busy office at Rose Medical Center, Dr. Subbarao can be found reading a book or taking photographs. If you can’t find him at all, chances are he’s out riding his bicycle or traveling and having a great adventure.

Guest Speaker: Ariela HaLevi— Passover Healing Service: Physical Health and Spirituality— Thursday, April 25, 6:00 p.m.
Ariela HaLevi is a Spiritual and Intuitive Guide. She holds a Masters degree in Social Work, is a certified Yoga Instructor, certified Holistic Health Coach, certified Life Purpose Coach, certified Reiki Master, certified in Aroma Touch Therapist, Mindfulness Teacher and Spiritual Guide. For 20 years, Ariela HaLevi has been guiding women of all ages through a blend of counseling, yoga, mindfulness practice & holistic healing, and offering support & guidance to nourish the body, open the heart, and unleash the soul.

Many of our sages throughout the ages—from the Talmud, to Maimonides, to Rav Kook and Martin Buber—have emphasized the importance of being aware of the connection between our physical selves and our spiritual understanding. Join us for an evening of healing through song, prayer and movement, focusing on the link between our physical health and our spirituality.

Confirmation
By Rabbi Joseph R. Black & Rabbi Emily Hyatt

If you walk into the social hall on Wednesdays and Sundays after Religious School ends, you’re likely to find a table or two filled with teens eating their weight in pizza—but they’re not just here to eat, they’re here for Confirmation. Confirmation may be the name of our ninth and tenth grade Religious School experience here at Temple Emanuel, but, more importantly, it’s the also the point. Through debate, conversation, challenge, and discussion, these students are confronted with some of the most complicated questions of Jewish identity: what does it mean to be a Jew, why be Jewish, what responsibility do you have to the community, and what Judaism has to say about some of the most relevant issues in their lives. The hope is that these questions lead them to confirm their commitment to their own Jewish identities.

As rabbis, Confirmation class is one of the best moments of the week - not because the classes are always easy, but because for the first time, our students often leave with more questions than answers. It is those questions and the opportunity to search for and grapple with the answers, that we hope will pave the way for deep belief and love of community.

In the spirit of that model, we’re always thoughtful about our Confirmation program and this year we’re taking the opportunity to update the Confirmation service, adding a new Havdallah experience and ceremony for the Confirmands and their families on Saturday, May 18. As always, the congregation and community will have an opportunity to bless and celebrate the confirmation class at Shabbat services on Friday, May 17. This updated format will allow for the opportunity to showcase these students — who they are, what they believe and how they’ve evolved both individually and as a class.

We invite the congregation to join us on Friday, May 17 for a festive Pre-Oneg at 5:30 p.m. and then at 6:00 p.m. for our Shabbat services which will include a moment of blessing and celebration for the confirmation class - thank you in advance for making these students feel celebrated, showing them our pride in their hard work and our commitment to helping them discover what it means to them to live rich and meaningful Jewish lives!

Wednesday, April 6: Decluttering Your Spring Cleaning—out with the chametz clutter with Julie Gutman, professional organizer, at the home of Rikki and Alon Mor at 7:30 p.m. RSVP baskin@EmanuelDenver.org for address and directions.

If you want to start Passover with a clean slate, Netflix’s new original series may provide some inspiration, courtesy of the minimalist queen of clean Marie Kondo. In the eight-episode series, the author of “The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up,” puts her advice into practice, visiting the homes of people who desperately want to declutter and identify the belongings that “spark joy.” Jewish tradition mandates that we clean out our homes in preparation for Passover and remove the “chametz,” leaven in our lives.

Julie Gutman, the founder and owner of Simplify Me, LLC. She has a plaque in her home that reads “Simplify.” Each time life gets stressful she looks at that and remembers that simplifying your surroundings helps you focus on the important things in life. She loves working with people to help them feel a sense of accomplishment when their spaces, and by extension, their lives are finally streamlined and simplified, and they can breathe a sigh of relief. Julie knows that clutter can creep up on us slowly, but often causes a great deal of stress and certainly consumes valuable time and energy.
Temple Emanuel Fundraising Concert

Thank you again to all who came and enjoyed our Annual Fundraising Concert featuring Marc Cohn. It was such a special night filled with incredible music and community. We were so pleased to be able to honor Michael Staenberg and David Foster, who have been so effective at leading our Shwayder Capital Campaign that they raised a tremendous amount of additional funds before the music even started!

We’re so grateful to our underwriters, Rose Medical Center and Michael Staenberg and the more than 150 sponsors (see below) for bringing this concert to life. And, thanks to over 1,200 people in attendance. We are very grateful to all of you that came out to support this event. It was a joyous gathering of community and a major funding source for Temple and the Shwayder Camp Capital Campaign.

We are very grateful to the co-chairs that made this evening so fabulous: Harvey Deutsch, Danny Foster, and Kami Pomerantz, as well as the dozens of other individuals that volunteered to ensure our success.

Thank you again to all our very generous sponsors

Financial Strength

By Steve Stark • stark@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 303

The Temple Emanuel fiscal year end is a couple of months away, so we are beginning our plans and starting the budgeting process for next year. This past year, as we embarked on our new Kehila 1874 annual financial commitment program, commitment from each of our members is vitally important. It allows us to continue to properly maintain our campus and it allows us to continue to create high standard levels of worship, programming and special events. Temple has always been managed in a fiscally responsible manner and we can only continue to be innovative and expand our offerings if everyone pays their fair share. At this time of year, please be sure your dues are current and if you feel you can give a little extra this year that would be appreciated. Thank you for being part of this vibrant community. May we go from strength to strength.
Minutes of the 143rd Annual Meeting of Temple Emanuel

Friday, March 16, 2018 • The meeting was called to order by Temple President Mark Idelberg at 7:48 p.m.

Mark Idelberg, President of the Congregation: Thank you for coming this evening.

MOTION: Approve the minutes from Annual Meeting 2017; PASSED. Our 143 year was daunting, amazing, and humbling. I would like to thank all the clergy, staff, and volunteers who worked hard to ensure this year was a success.

We need to approve the slate of the new trustees: Larry Katzin, Lori Kalata, Farah Stern, and Donald Yale.

Motion to approve: PASSED

We need to approve the second term Board of Trustees: Ken Fellman

Motion to approve: PASSED

Thank you to all our Board members. Our new board was installed. This year we had programs which included Mitzvah Day, softball team, scholarships awarded to college student, and BBQ for Religious School. Happy to announce Doug Velick as the Volunteer of the Year for his leadership, welcoming new members, and his ability to get things done.

Laurie Prieve, Sisterhood President: Thank you to all the board members. Our new board was installed. This year we had programs which included a hike on Mount Falcon, making latkes, gifts for Religious School families, gifts for college students, matanah gift project for JFS, blessings and backpacks, donated to YFSE, Shwayder Camp, and money for a new oven in the kitchen. Volunteer of the Year is Cindy Friedland for helping at all Sisterhood events, helping with the Sisterhood bake sale, mah jong tournament, Mitzvah Day projects and more.

Rabbi Black, Senior Rabbi: We have accomplished so much this year and we would like to recognize the co-chairs of Family Promise: Deb Herman, Lori Kalata, Susie Moss, and Sherry Stark for helping us change our congregation through Family Promise. Bringing Family Promise to our congregation has transformed our community in our connection with each other and the greater Denver community. We have trained over 325 people to help us with each host week and have made a difference in numerous lives throughout the process. I would also like to recognize Alan Werne for his behind the scenes volunteering at Temple Emanuel. Alan sets up Torah study, brings extra food to people who are homeless, and helps whenever he is in the building.

Susan Warotchow, ELC Director: ELC Volunteer of the Year: Karen Niebrugge and Kelly McKled. They volunteered to lead the Parent Committee, supported people with their feelings, organized Truck Day and helped raise money for the ELC.

Francie Miran, Development Director: Leaving a legacy gift is a sacred act and we would like to honor members who included Temple Emanuel in their legacy gifts. Individuals of any age can be part of a legacy gift. Thank you for making your legacy gift known to us.

Leslie Schaffer: Life is full of special moments and many of those moments have included Temple Emanuel and that is why I am leaving a legacy gift to Temple Emanuel.

Rabbi Black: Success is building on strengths like programs, funding, open portals of entry, the relationships we form together in order to inspire people to maximize their Jewish identity and learn from those moments. Highlights of the year include: 3 babies born to Temple staff members: Zach Rolf, Rabbi Immerman, and Cantor Sacks. Many members were actively involved in searching for a new rabbi, Rabbi Baskin joining us as an associate rabbi. Our membership continues to grow, we have a new prayer book for the High Holy Days, we offered an iEngage class about Israel, our series about Ageless Adversity was a huge success, we engaged multiple generations in our Bubbe’s Cooking series, developed partnerships with many Jewish organizations both locally and nationally, formed a group for empty nesters, and kicked off Kehila 1874. We restructured Shabbat worship and family worship, participated in the URJ benchmarking process, welcomed artists Peter Himmelman, Aaron Pankin, Richard Address, Sababa, and more. We formed the following task forces: rabbinic search committee, Kehila 1874, sacred space, office and adult education space, to name a few.

We also offered a grief group, Torah and Talmud classes, Mitzvah Day, and Family Promise.

Our fundraiser was a huge success. I would like to thank the entire committee, especially Susie Sigman and Steve Brodsky. Religious School is wonderful. We have made changes to reflect the needs of our congregation and now offer multiple programs on multiple days and an optional winter session.

Shwayder Camp continues to shine. We raised 4.7 million dollars and are only 1.5 million away from our goal. Thank you to David Foster, Michael Staenberg, and Francie Miran. The camp structures are almost complete. We also welcomed Zahava Davis as the Assistant Director of Shwayder. Thank you to our ELC staff and families. We have a new greenhouse, flooring, and the staff and parents have created a safe and nurturing environment for our children. Thank you to Mark Idelberg for your leadership. I know you care deeply about Temple Emanuel and I appreciate your attention to detail, your dedication and insight. I am blessed to work with an amazing team. This year Rabbi Foster was installed as the President of NOAAR and we gave a workshop together on successful transitions at the NOAAR conference. He is a mentor, resource, and friend.

Rabbi Black thanked the Board of Trustees, the Clergy, all the Temple Emanuel Professional Staff, and the congregation for all the passion and dedication to Judaism.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:51 p.m.
Adult Program Happenings

By Sarah Brown • brown@EmanuelDenver.org • ext. 305

We have an exciting two months of engagement opportunities for you. First, we are continuing our Aging Wisely Series, a program series on preparedness and acceptance of aging. Focused on medical needs, philanthropy and finance, legal matters, and language and topics for conversations on late/end of life care. Light appetizers and wine will be served.

- Tuesday, March 12 at 6:30 p.m. What do you want to pass on? Join Rabbi Black to learn about ethical wills and why it is important to express hopes and desires for your family after you pass.
- Tuesday, April 16 at 6:30 p.m. Join Francie Miran to learn the ins and outs of legacy giving options. What does legacy giving mean? How can you participate in legacy giving in an informed way?

We are beginning our iEngage class Thursday, March 7. iEngage is a program through the Shalom Hartman Institute. iEngage creates a new narrative regarding the significance of Israel for Jewish life. This narrative serves as a foundation for a new covenant between Israel and world Jewry, elevating the existing discourse from a crisis-based focus to one rooted in Jewish values and ideas. Led by a team of internationally renowned scholars in the fields of Jewish studies, Middle East politics, and history, iEngage is committed to addressing core questions pertaining to the necessity and significance of the State of Israel. This innovative new course explores the pivotal events of 1947 and 1967 — following the 1917 Balfour Declaration — as key moments when Zionism unleashed new thinking about the meaning of Jewishness for generations to come. The course engages Jews in an open and pluralistic discussion about issues of Jewish identity, peoplehood, ethics, and theology, as they relate to nationhood, land, sovereignty, Jerusalem, occupation, and moral red lines. Each session in this eight-unit course includes a 20-35-minute video lecture and a 20-30 minute roundtable video discussion with senior Hartman faculty, as well as primary sources and background readings. iEngage begins at 6:30 p.m. the following Thursdays: March 7, March 14, March 21, March 28, April 4, April 11, April 18, and May 9. Register online at www.EmanuelDenver.org or call me, 303.388.4013, ext. 305.

Kavod on the Road and Temple Emanuel are going to Safta, a new Israeli restaurant, Wednesday, March 27. Cost: $30, includes lunch, hamentashen baking, and transportation. 11:15 a.m. pick up at Temple Emanuel. RSVP: Gabriel Sanders, GSanders@KavodSeniorLife.org, 720.382.7842.

In partnership with Jewish Colorado and the Rocky Mountain Rabbinical Council we will be presenting an Israel Education program titled Israel-It’s Real: A Conversation Series part 3 taught by Rabbi Black Tuesday, April 10 from 7:00–9:00 p.m.

Rose Medical Center and Temple Emanuel present part two of our partnership Nourishing our Jewish Selves: Mind, Body, and Soul with a healing service Thursday, April 25 at 6:00 p.m. This special service will focus on healing ourselves with Rabbi Eliot Baskin, Cantor Elizabeth Sacks, and Rabbi Jeffrey Kaye from Rose Medical Center.

Mitzvah Day is Sunday, May 5. We are looking for people who are interested in “captaining a project.” Captain training will take place during the week of April 8. There are projects taking place in the greater Denver community as well at Temple Emanuel. Please give me a call or send me an email if you can participate, brown@EmanuelDenver.org.

We are still looking to form chavurot, small groups with common interests. Contact me if you have an idea for a chavurah, would like to lead a chavurah, or would like to join a chavurah.

When we Jews study our texts, we consider each word, because each word affects our understanding. Many of us have noticed that Family Promise never uses “homeless” as an adjective. Instead, Family Promise clients — our guests — are families who are “experiencing homelessness.” Homeless is not who they are, but what they are going through. This semantic choice provides dignity and encourages hope. It also implies that homelessness can happen to almost anyone. The recent government shutdown is a stark reminder of that vulnerability. Without a financial nest egg or family or friends to help, just a few missed paychecks can put housing at risk for any of us.

Temple Emanuel is privileged to partner with Family Promise to help families experiencing homelessness. We have four host weeks this year.

2019 Host Weeks

| March 3 – 10 • May 5 – 12 • August 11 – 18 • November 24 – December 1 |

We continue to welcome new volunteers and donations. To volunteer, donate, or simply learn more about Family Promise at Temple Emanuel, visit www.emanueldenver.org/social-justice/family-promise.
Education and Engagement

By Zach Rolf • rolf@EmanuelDenver • ext. 325

Supplementary Jewish educators (Religious School, Hebrew School, youth programming…) are tasked with passing on to the next generation both a foundational knowledge of, and a relevant connection to, Judaism beyond the synagogue walls. Due to a continually diminishing amount of time with the students, the struggle is to ensure the continuity of knowledge and skills while simultaneously connecting with the hearts of students and encouraging their lifelong participation in the Jewish community. The educator’s challenge is how best to connect with both their students’ emotional intelligences and their intellectual curiosities in order to add depth and meaning to subject matter.

Throughout Jewish history, many wise teachers have attempted to illustrate this dilemma in a way that helps us to think about it more deeply. This age-old conversation is more relevant now than ever before. If Jewish education cannot manage to address the tension between the education of Jews and the engagement of Jews, there is a risk of producing a generation of Jews who are neither educated nor engaged. One such source from Jewish tradition illustrates this dilemma in a compelling way. This text suggests some very explicit implications for the field of Jewish education.

In this text, the dilemma of education and engagement is shown through the metaphor of masonry. In this case,

Avot d’Rabbi Natan 24

Elisha ben Abuyah used to say: To whom may a man who has good deeds and has studied much Torah be compared? To a man who in building [lays] stones first [for a foundation] and then lays bricks [over them], so that however much water may collect at the side of the building, it will not wash it away.

Contrariwise, he who has no good deeds even though he has studied much Torah—to whom may he be compared? To a man who in building lays bricks first and then heaps stones over them, so that even if a little water collects, it at once undermines the structure.

He used to say: A man who has good deeds and has studied much Torah—to what may he be compared? To plaster coated over a structure of stones, so that however many rains fall upon it, they will not budge it from its place. On the other hand, a man who has no good deeds even though he has studied much Torah—to what may he be compared? To plaster coated over a structure of bricks, so that, however little rain falls upon it, it immediately softens and crumbles away.

— Avot d’Rabbi Natan 24
“education” (Torah) is represented by the man’s use of bricks in the building of a structure. “Engagement” (good deeds) is reflected in the man’s use of stones in the construction project. The text suggests that the man who has both studied much Torah and who has good deeds is able to build the ideal structure which is able to withstand the elements of nature and the challenges to its structural integrity.

The order of placement seems to be important in this teaching. The man who both has good deeds and has studied much Torah has a structure that is grounded in stone first and then protected with brick on the outside. The good deeds give the foundation, while the knowledge supplies the protection from the weather.

The man who has no good deeds but has studied much Torah is working with the same raw materials, though they are arranged differently. There is no foundation in good deeds; therefore, the structure’s foundation is not solid stone. Instead, the learning (bricks) forms the foundation, with the stones thrown on top. The lack of good deeds actually makes the structure less stable and more prone to destruction.

Perhaps most interesting in this text is that absence of a scenario depicting a man who has good deeds but has not studied much Torah – which would suggest that while good deeds (engagement) might be critical in the project’s ability to be lasting, one cannot even consider building the structure without the study of Torah (education).

This spring has been jam-packed full of fun for the Youth Groups of Temple Emanuel. We have been gearing up for the long awaited Purim Carnival! There will be games, prizes, and yummy food trucks! This year, one of our FCTYG board members, Margaux Dufrene, has made it her mission to bring even more fun to the Carnival for the high schoolers. Every one (of all ages) should come. It’s going to be an awesome day. FCTYG went to Winter Chavurah, a Nuggets game, and an Escape Room! What’s next? We’ll give you a hint—it involves AXES! Frankel Club JYG has also been busy with their own trip to a Nuggets game, their very own havurah, and a kick-start of a leadership team. How awesome! Outdoor Experiences are a huge part of the Rabbi Steven Foster ELC. Whether it is sunny, snowy, or rainy, the children are making meaning of the world around them. A key and central value we focus on is tikkun olam. With that focus, we have created an Outdoor Studio experience that not only supports to calm children’s central nervous systems but expands upon their creative approaches to play and learning. These experiences promote awe and wonder about the world around them and create an avenue for discovery and inquiry. All highly level thinking skills that we hope to foster!

Need a little Soul Searching?

Join Rabbi Hyatt in a book discussion that helps us “reclaim our souls” and “live up to our gifts.”

Book Discussion: Thursday, April 11, 6:30 – 8:00 p.m. Einstein and the Rabbi by Naomi Levy

Join Rabbi Hyatt in discussion about Rabbi Naomi Levy’s three-year search into the mystery of Einstein’s letters, and into the mystery of the human soul. When Rabbi Naomi Levy came across this poignant letter by Einstein it shook her to her core. His words perfectly captured what she has come to believe about the human condition: That we are intimately connected, and that we are blind to this truth. Levy wondered what had elicited such spiritual wisdom from a man of science? Book available in the library.

Did you know the library has...

- A puzzle and Hebrew DVD exchange tables
- A mitzvah card making area (we still collect cards)
- Binyan Blocks museum
- Family Games (available for check-out)
- Is a place to volunteer

Send a special congratulation to Temple Emanuel’s confirmands with a Sisterhood Uniongram or Goldengram, which will be given to the confirmands at their Confirmation, Friday, May 17.

> For $5 each, your name will be included on a group Goldengram with a standard greeting.

> For $10 each, a personal message of your choice will be written in a separate Uniongram.

Uniongrams and Goldengrams support the Sisterhood Y.E.S. Fund (Youth, Education, and Special Projects), which benefit many worthwhile causes in the Reform movement, such as NFTY (National Federation for Temple Youth), the RAC (Religious Action Center), and financial assistance for rabbinical and cantorial students.

Send this form and a check payable to “Sisterhood of Congregation Emanuel” to the Sisterhood Youth Committee chair: Cindy Friedland, 153 S. Roslyn St., Denver, 80230 by Friday, April 26, or drop it off at the Temple.
