

*Growing • Learning
Community • Food Justice
Sustainability*

New Roots Internship

Now accepting applications!

Are you interested in growing food for your community?
Are you interested in working outdoors with children & youth?
Then you're exactly who we are looking for!

May 22nd through August 11th
35-hours/week, $12/hour
(Limited part-time positions available.)

The Big Garden is seeking self-starting individuals who are passionate about food security & food justice for an active, hands-on urban agriculture internship!

What does it involve?

- cooking, nutrition, & food preservation
- garden maintenance
- teaching garden classes
- working as a team
- working in greenhouse
- washing, storing, & delivering produce
- attending Big Garden events
- completing internship curriculum

To apply, email or call:

Cait Caughey
Education Director
ccaughey@biggarden.org
402.906.2716
www.BigGarden.org

Requirements: valid driver's license, age 19+, background check

Applications due March 15th
Interns selected by April 15th