The Happiness & Well-Being Project is pleased to announce the third lecture in the Race & Well-Being Lecture Series as part of the Diversity Speaker Series at Saint Louis University:

ADVANCES IN THE CONCEPTUALIZATION AND MEASUREMENT OF RACE-RELATED STRESS

Shawn Utsey
Professor of Psychology, Counseling Psychology, and African American Studies
Virginia Commonwealth University

THURSDAY | JANUARY 25 | 7:00 PM
Anheuser-Busch Auditorium
John Cook School of Business
Saint Louis University
3674 Lindell Blvd

FREE PARKING
LACLEDE GARAGE 3602 Laclede Avenue
Reception to follow with food and refreshments

Shawn Utsey is a Professor of Counseling Psychology and Interim Chair of the African American Studies Department at Virginia Commonwealth University. Dr. Utsey’s research interests are primarily in two areas, both of which are related to the psychology of the African American experience.

First, he is interested in understanding how race-related stress impacts the psychological and physiological health of African Americans. His other area of interest is the role of culture in coping and resilience among African Americans.