CARL JUNG.  JAMES JOYCE.  LUCIA JOYCE.
Three extraordinary people who met and moved each other in Zurich

This play raises questions about art and madness.
What happens in the individuation process of the artistic genius?
What is the role of the artist in modern society?
What is the responsibility of the psychologist to the artistic genius? And to the artist's children?
What differences exist in our attitudes toward emotional behavior between men and women?

This play was written by Jungian Analyst Del McNeely for the benefit of

C. G. JUNG SOCIETY OF NEW ORLEANS
