Through your support for the work of Earth Law Center (ELC), you are helping to make the planet healthy and whole for human beings and our beloved fellow species—of this and future generations.

If you have questions about the Earth Law Center Legacy Giving Society, please contact:

Grant Wilson
510-566-1063
gwilson@earthlaw.org
OUR MISSION

ELC’s mission is to advance Earth-centered laws and community-led movements that respect and protect all life on the planet.

We engage in ecocentric legal movements including the Rights of Nature, guardianships of Nature, Indigenous Earth Law, human environmental rights, rights of future generations, and animal rights—a remarkable field in which to create your personal legacy.

LEGACY GIVING

You can continue with your support long into the future by including ELC in your estate planning program in the form of a bequest, an endowment, or other monetary gift contained in your will or as a trust.

By making such a significant gift to this rapidly growing area of transformative law for the planet, you will make a lasting contribution to giving Nature a voice and formal roles in governments and businesses around the world.

SOCIETY MEMBERS

Founding members of the Earth Law Center Legacy Giving Society will be recognized as such.

Legacy Giving Society members will be invited to ELC functions and events and will be recognized from time to time in ELC publications.

Most importantly, your gift will support the protection, restoration, and conservation of the ecosystems that the children and future generations of all species need to thrive.

GETTING STARTED

Consult with your estate planning attorney to arrange for the planned giving approach that works best for you. And, be sure to let ELC know the details of your gift to ensure the center receives it in accordance with your wishes.