Colin Brodie is a Chief Advisor: Safety for the New Zealand Transport Agency. He has over 40 years' experience in road design, traffic engineering and road safety. Colin has been a member of the Austroads Safety Task Force for over 10 years, helping guide the implementation of the Safe System, and was also a member of the OECD/ITF working group for the publication of the Zero Road Deaths & Serious Injuries research report in 2016.

New Zealand's road safety strategy, Safer Journeys, adopted the Safe System approach seven years ago. But what does this really mean? Over the last 3 years Colin was a member of an OCED/ITF international working group writing a guide with the above title. He will share that experience, his contribution, learnings and what this may mean for New Zealand.

Zero deaths and serious injuries: leading a paradigm shift to a safe system

New Zealand’s road safety strategy, Safer Journeys, adopted the Safe System approach seven years ago. But what does this really mean? Over the last 3 years Colin was a member of an OCED/ITF international working group writing a guide with the above title. He will share that experience, his contribution, learnings and what this may mean for New Zealand.