Acacia Headquarters Chapter eNewsletter Program

The Acacia International Headquarters contributes to the communications efforts of our chapters and colonies by offering an eNewsletter program, including email list management, newsletter layout and formatting, and electronic distribution.

See the appendix for a template and multiple examples from Acacia chapters.

What is required of the chapter?

- Write the articles; usually 2-5 articles are an ideal length for your eNewsletter.
- Provide pictures to enhance the newsletter.
- Please provide 1-2 weeks lead time for publication.

What does the Headquarters staff do?

- After receiving content from the chapter, Headquarters staff will perform light editing to make corrections and occasionally edit for space.
- The content is formatted for email (HTML), and pictures are added if provided by the chapter. A text version is also created for recipients with text-only email preferences.
- The eNewsletter is published with an email marketing program called Emma (www.myemma.com), a web service paid for by Acacia Headquarters.
- Emma is able to track how many members are opening the email newsletter and clicking on any links. This information can be provided back to the chapter.
- Invalid email addresses are detected by Emma and then removed from your chapter’s email list by Headquarters staff, keeping your email list as accurate as possible.
- Ongoing member contact information updates via Acacia’s website and other communications support the Headquarters’ email list management abilities year-round.

Who will receive the eNewsletter?

- Chapter alumni and active members, International Council, Headquarters staff
- Optional: Venerable Deans, Chapter Advisors, and House Corporation Board presidents of other chapters and colonies
- Note: The number of recipients is limited by the size of each chapter’s email list. Most chapter email lists range from one to several hundred members, depending on chapter size.

What else is required to get started?

- If your chapter has never regularly published a newsletter, or wishes to begin from square one, devise a title for your newsletter. Many chapter newsletters use Acacia-themed names, such as: The Pythagorean (Iowa State), The Asp (Nebraska), The Memnon (Washington State), etc.
- Provide the Headquarters staff with your chapter’s email list, if you keep one internally. This list will be reconciled with Headquarters records to create the most accurate list possible.
- Please provide 3-4 weeks lead time for your first chapter eNewsletter.

SEPTEMBER UPDATE FROM WSU ACACIA

Dear Brother Pastko,

Hello once again from Washington State College, where officially started up, and the fall semester is in full swing. We are excited to be back in Pullman and are looking forward to the year to come.

Over the summer, three of our active brothers were able to attend the Biennial Acacia Leadership Academy held at the Indiana Chapter house in Bloomington. The week was spent meeting brothers from other chapters and brainstorming effective ways to recruit, motivate, and lead our own chapter. We would like to thank all of the alumni whose donations helped ease the cost of attendance for our members.

As I wrote in the spring, we are finalizing the details of our alumni weekend this coming September. I tried to contact many of you over the summer and was able to receive a handful of responses. We are still hoping for a decent turnout. If these events prove to be worthwhile, we may potentially turn this into an annual function.

The events of the alumni weekend will begin on the night of Friday, September 20th. We will be holding a banquet at the local Masonic lodge on Kamakana Street, where we will invite all of the students who applied for our scholarship. While there, we will distribute the scholarships to the chosen recipients. This dinner will be open for alumni to come and view our scholarship fundraiser program in action.

The following morning, Saturday the 21st will involve a mixer at the chapter house for alumni to come and view our current facility. This will lead up to the football game, at which point our active members, as well as those of you with tickets, will head over to Martin Stadium to watch the Cougars play our neighboring UI Vandals. Also, two hours prior to kickoff, the annual Greek & Gavel conference call will take place. We are looking into booking a room in the Compton Union building for members and interested alumni to sit in on the call and discuss our current financial situation. This will be a great opportunity for alumni to view our plans and aspirations for the years to come.

For those of you who remain in town until the following morning, Sunday the 22nd, we will be conducting our induction ceremony. Depending on how large our current pledge class shapes up to be this will likely either be at the chapter house or at the Masonic lodge. This will be a great opportunity for alumni to witness part of the ritual for the first time in years, as well as mingle one more time with our current pledges.

Ultimately, we want this time to be a chance for alumni to get a better understanding of where WSU Acacia currently is as a chapter and help us prepare for the years ahead. We would appreciate attendance from as many of you as possible.

As the year progresses, I will have more information to report about other aspects of the fraternity. For the time being, however, we mainly wanted to update all of you on the events we are preparing for you. If you have any questions at all, please send me an email at my address listed below.

We hope to meet many of you in September!

Fraternally,
Dar Watson, #810

CHAPTER UPDATE

This semester, the Lambeth Chapter of Acacia is proud to be taking a more active part in the community in which we reside. The addition of 12 new pledges to the chapter via a rigorous scholarship program sponsored by our generous alumni has replenished the chapter with a new wave of leaders. From lakes of Minnesota to the suburbs of Chicago and everywhere in between, our chapter has searched for only the best new initiates to represent the Acacia Fraternity in Wisconsin.

This fall semester also brings a revival and expansion of the Acacia Clause philanthropy and a car smash event to benefit the "Kick-it to Cancer" organization. This, along with the additional volunteer expectations we have for our chapter, has set up the rest of 2013 to be a great year for Acacia and its members.

BROTHER HANSES MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP UPDATE

Homecoming just won't ever be the same without Brother Hannes. But, in his spirit, there will be new members joining our chapter because of a scholarship in his honor. This is an annual scholarship that will be awarded in the spring and the fall. It is through your generosity that we are able to do so. Our goal is to make this as large as possible so that we may be able to offer it to as many new members as we can.

At Homecoming this year, we will be looking to sign people up for recurring donations. It's a simple process that takes less than 5 minutes. Please consider what you may be able to contribute. If you're unable to join us for Homecoming this year and would like to contribute, please contact us and we can help you through the online process.
