A Guide For Explaining Enactus UK

Unsure how to explain Enactus to new students? Use this guide to answer some common questions.

- What is Enactus?
  Enactus is a student led programme creating projects in the community based at our university. Projects range from working with homeless people to young children to refugees to the elderly. Enactus is bigger than just the UK, it is also a global organisation and there are different opportunities to collaborate with other teams. Enactus UK is funded by partners, for example Amazon, ASDA and Unilever.

- What do I gain from joining Enactus?
  As a student you would gain lots of different skills from being a part of our Enactus team. You will improve your employability skills, you will be a part of creating a better world for all, you will develop your skill set further and by engaging and participating you will receive mentoring and coaching from the support network.

- What will I be doing in the team?
  Here, tell them about:
  1. Committee roles available
  2. How often you meet - when you get together and what you do
  3. Your top three projects

- How can being part of Enactus increase my employability?
  Enactus UK works with a wide variety of partners, from Amazon to Unilever to Enterprise Rent A Car. The partners hold different events for Enactus students. These could be employability events, mentoring sessions and insight sessions. Partners also run partner competitions where teams can apply for funding and mentoring. You can find out about who the partners are on the enactus UK website.
