My Dear Sir

I rec'd your kind note of the 5th inst & hasten to answer it. I rec'd heretofore & duly the books you so kindly sent me & was under the impression I had made you my acknowledgment for them. As I have been much from home however, it may have escaped me. I read them all with pleasure, & intent to study them.

I am glad to hear you intend again to treat on the question of money. It is to be the great question of not-only this country but the world.

When 5 per cent of the people own all the property & 2½ percent own more than the rest, there must be something "rotten in Denmark!

I rec'd your admirable letter to Me Adams - had read it in the common _____ & will do all I can to circulate it widely. I should be in the _____ of every _____ man in the land.

Daniel[?] to Mr Faulknet at "mantingoberg, Berkely County, West Virginia.

I send you by xpress the book you could not get. _____ 2/3.

This book was borrowed by my grandson, & not returned as a school-fellow of his who _____ it left _____ hand - It may never be wanted. If it should, I will let you know.

I should be very glad to get your contemplated pamphlet on currency when ready - with the highest regard, very truly yours
