

SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive Program

Supplemental Application

Applicants to the SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive Program must submit the following information in addition to that requested by the existing Custom Incentive or Savings By Design Programs. This program requires that the refrigeration system have a dedicated electrical sub-meter. If the project is accepted, SMUD will bear the expense and manage the installation of the sub-meter in coordination with the customer. SMUD will also independently contract with Measurement & Verification contractors to document and analyze the results of the program. Refer to the full program brochure for complete information.

Estimate. To allow SMUD to calculate your incentive estimate, provide the following below or in an attachment:

Description	Response
Baseline (Existing) System <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Refrigerant System charge System annual leak rate based on 3 years of system maintenance or refrigerant purchase records, if available Retrofit/Replacement or New System <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Equipment costs Installation costs Refrigerant System charge Forecast annual leak rate based on Engineering estimates Cooling capacity (MBTU/hr) Expected system remaining or useful life Additional Incentive Criteria <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Project location Business size

In addition to the above information participants may submit their estimates of energy, demand and GHG savings with explicit documentation and explanation of how the estimates were developed. SMUD will estimate savings factoring in any participant provided data or savings calculations. The final savings on which the incentive payment is based may or may not align with participant submitted calculations.

Reservation of Incentive.

In order to reserve an incentive for a particular project, SMUD staff will perform an estimate of expected GHG savings and natural refrigerant incentive. SMUD will return the Reservation of Incentive notification which, if approved, will indicate the applicable natural refrigerant incentive for the project. Applicable natural refrigerant incentive may be adjusted at SMUD's sole discretion prior to release of funds.

Additional Terms and Conditions:

1. All Terms and Conditions contained in the Custom Incentive and/or the Savings By Design Program Agreements apply to the SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive Program.
2. Customer grants to SMUD and/or its contractors the right to enter the customer's premises for the installation of a dedicated electrical sub-meter that will accurately reflect only the operation of the refrigerant system that is the subject of this incentive program, not other building or equipment systems. Customer agrees to coordinate with SMUD and/or its contractors for the access to customer's premises.
3. Customer grants to SMUD and/or its contractors the right to obtain operational data on the refrigerant system subject to this program. Operational data will be collected for a minimum of three (3) years, and data, insights and other information about system performance shall be provided to SMUD and/or its contractors to support the publication of case studies and other reports regarding the SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive program.
4. Customer agrees to provide SMUD and/or its contractors with annual refrigerant leak data for three (3) years, directly or by granting access to reports filed with the California Air Resources Board, by the end of the first quarter following each year of operation.
5. Customer agrees that in the event of a sale or assignment of the premises, these Terms and Conditions will be binding upon, and shall inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of Customer. Customer agrees to execute and deliver all instruments and documents, and take all action that may be reasonably necessary to complete the assignment and otherwise effectuate the purposes and intent of this agreement.
6. The SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive Program is subject to cancellation by SMUD. Projects confirmed for incentive at the time of cancellation will be funded and may continue to be monitored (at SMUD's discretion) in accordance with these Additional Terms and Conditions.

I have read, understand and agree to the additional information requirements and Terms and Conditions associated with the SMUD Pilot Natural Refrigerant Incentive Program.
