WORLD.

Global citizenship education has a critical role to play in equipping learners with competencies to deal with the dynamic and interdependent world of twenty-first century.

- an attitude supported by an understanding of multiple levels of identity and the potential for a collective identity
- a deep knowledge of global issues and universal values
- cognitive skills to think critically, systematically and creatively
 - non-cognitive skills including social skills, communication skills, networking
- behavioural capacities to act collaboratively and responsibly to find global solutions for global challenges
