

The food served at Koji’s restaurant is inspired by the Japanese cuisine and you can find a wide range of dishes, from sushi to fried rice to fresh salads. We use fresh local ingredients as much as possible and because of this our menu changes daily, depending on the season and what produce we can get our hands on that day. The menu below is an example and shows some of the dishes that you can usually order in our restaurant. All prices are in Costa Rican colones.
