FACES

May 25 - June 24, 2018

165 7th Street, Brooklyn, New York

Opening Reception: Friday, May 25, 6-9 PM

Ransom Ashley "Pocket Mirror", 2018

Site:Brooklyn Gallery is pleased to present FACES, an open call for submission juried by Jacqueline Towers-Perkins.

Jacqueline Towers-Perkins selected artwork for the exhibition. Jacqueline Towers-Perkins is a Specialist of Post-War & Contemporary Art at Bonhams Auctioneers in New York. She previously served as a Post-War and Contemporary Art Specialist at Artnet Auctions in New York, Paddle8 in London and as Auctioneer and Head of the Paintings department at a London auction house.

In visual arts it was the face, usually in portraiture, where the viewer found closely rendered depictions of individuals, which sought to reveal something of their character, personality or social position. However, in the post-war era a radical shift took place. Recent decades of art history have put the idea of ever accessing a true or unitary self into question, while at the same time opening up new avenues of expression, freeing artists to explore identities and themes previous kept at the margins. The show presents works, in a variety of mediums — print, painting, photography— from artists all across the world, engaging fruitfully with this new openness. While a number of the works are close to traditional portraits, many of the artists focus on the body or physical presence instead of the capturing expression or representational likeness. While the faces depicted are not necessarily in the traditional mode of viewer portraiture, they nonetheless are united by fostering a distinct and memorable encounter with the viewer
