

subscribe

shopping

style&advice

Lucky breaks, rewards & giveaways

Lucky > Shopping

Emily Hsieh
contributing editor

Blog Roll

Lucky Girl
FabSugar
Superfuture
Fashionologie
The Tastemaker Diaries
Hint
Coutorture
Design * Sponge
Domino
Fashionista
Racked
Refinery29
ShopStyle
StyleDiary

shop girl

The latest ultra-cool picks in design and fashion, all shoppable online.

A - OK

One of my all-time favorite places to shop is a little housewares and accessories boutique in Los Angeles called OK, which finally just went e-commerce. The beauty of the store - and now the site - is that the inventory is so chic and carefully curated, yet the goods are approachable and utilitarian (as opposed to the stuff that sits behind glass and feels too precious to actually use). Some of their staples include

Comme des Garçons

wallets, Noguchi lamps, and classic-modern glassware by Iittala, though there are always a bunch of surprises in the mix. I'm digging the vintage telephones, which are charmingly old-school and low-tech, these delicate dangle Lee Hale earrings modeled after thorns, and this weird but incredibly cool bronze foot by Anne Ricketts, which I'd use as a paperweight.

