AIM Photonics announcement on COVID-19

TUESDAY, MARCH 17, 2020

To all AIM Photonics Employees, Members, Partners, Suppliers, and Customers,

Beginning today, AIM Photonics is implementing the following policies in the wake of the current global virus situation:

1.) Encouraging all *non-essential AIM Photonics employees to work from home.

2.) Reducing outside visits to AIM Photonics Albany, NY and Rochester, NY offices until further notice, except for critical business cases.

AIM Photonics will continue to operate, and representatives will be in touch to reschedule any upcoming visits, deliveries, or meetings, and to coordinate teleconference options where feasible.

AIM Photonics continues to offer MPW runs and is in constant contact with our users about wafer run schedules and delivery dates.

We are continually monitoring this and will update the website with additional information when available.

Thank you for your understanding and adherence to the current policy in this difficult time. Any questions or concerns should be directed to info@aimphotonics.com

Sincerely,

Frank Tolic
Chief Marketing Officer
* Non-essential employees are defined as anyone who does not need to be physically present to perform job functions, or they are not required to meet the core function and programs of their agency during this emergency response. At this time, non-essential employees shall work from home, to the extent practicable. (nysed.gov website)
