Office vacancy decreased slightly to 7% with a positive absorption of 306,752 SF

“Vacancy decreased slightly in the 4th quarter and in 2018 as a whole. This is on top of almost 500,000 SF of new construction delivered to the market. Rental rates continued to increase for the quarter and will likely continue to rise slightly in 2019.”

Industrial vacancy increases to 4.8% despite a positive net absorption of 759,277 SF

“Large, speculative projects have seen great success in 2018, however we are approaching a shortage of quality sites for developers. There are still some large gaps in available space between 100,000-200,000 SF but at 4.8% vacancy, it is still very difficult to find available product.”

- The vacancy rate increased due to new product coming on the market faster than it could be absorbed.
- The industrial rental rate was $4.11 per square foot per year at the end of the fourth quarter, representing a 2.5% increase in rental rates from the end of Q3 2018.
- Cap rates have been lower in 2018, averaging 7.22%, compared to the end of last year when they averaged 8.57%.
- Total industrial inventory amounted to 291,064,657 SF in 5,418 buildings at the end of the fourth quarter in 2018.
