THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF NASHVILLE'S HISTORY

Established in 1922, the mission of the Junior League of Nashville (JLN) is to develop the potential of women and to impact the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Today, JLN has more than 1,500 members working diligently with community partners in the areas of literacy and human trafficking.

WHO WE SERVE

Over the course of our 94-year history, JLN has worked with community partners to envision, create, implement, and sustain programs that help women and children overcome challenges and reach their full potential. In January 2015, the Junior League of Nashville (JLN) membership voted to introduce Human Trafficking and Literacy as the main focus areas of the League until 2022, JLN's centennial.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Human trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery where people profit from the control and exploitation of others. Nashville is ranked third in the south for human trafficking, behind only Atlanta and New Orleans. In Tennessee, Davidson County, along with Knox County and Shelby County, report the highest number of adult and minor trafficking incidents annually.

By working to eradicate human trafficking in the Nashville area, the Junior League of Nashville will help reduce crime and prostitution, aid in the rescue of women and girls from a life of coercion, fear and self-hatred, and allow these victims to overcome their circumstances and be free to reach their full potential.

LITERACY

Literacy is the ability to read, write, understand, interpret, discuss, compute, and solve problems at levels of proficiency necessary to function on the job, in the family, as an individual and in society. Outside of parental support, 3rd grade reading proficiency has the biggest impact on the probability that a child will graduate high school. Literacy is relevant to the mission of JLN as many statistics cite that having inadequate literacy prevents people, especially women, from getting full-time jobs, teaching their children important skills, and providing for their families. Ultimately, low literacy, which perpetuates the cycle of poverty, is an issue that is plaguing Nashville.
