HOT NEW LINE

Arclinea has opened a showroom in Park West, at 2515 Fifth Avenue, one of just eight Arclinea kitchens distributors in the United States. The stunning store designed by Arclinea San Diego's Ryan Tharp, Associate AIA, together with local owner Lisa Wilson-Wirthis arranged to give idea shoppers an up-close view of the latest in Euro kitchen design, including snazzy innovations like a built-in ultraviolet light to grow herbs.

The showroom highlights the new Arclinea Collection, designed by Italian architect Antonio Citterio, known for his designs for B&B Italia and Flos, among others. Hallmarks of the line are its modernist stainless-steel-and-wood design and step-saving functionality any chef can appreciate. The San Diego site is the first U.S. showroom to feature the newest Artusi kitchen, introduced at this year's Eurocucina in Milan. Artusi is ultimately flexible, made of freestanding working units in steel and teak.

The local hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Thursday; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday; or by appointment. 619-564-7440; www.arclineasandiego.com

TIPS ON TRIMS

WindsorOne is in the niche business of providing architecturally and historically accurate period trims, essential for older-home remodels. Pictured is a recent remodel using Windsor- One S4SSE trim boards to complement the exterior of a Victorian bungalow. Smooth, knot-free surfaces and varying widths allow the boards to serve a variety of purposes, such as soffit, fascia, columns, pilasters, band boards and corner boards.
