Tips + Tricks to Ethical Holiday Shopping

1.

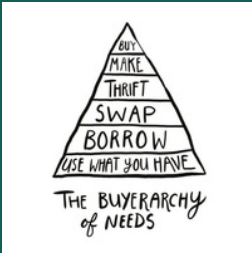

Make Your List

Who are you shopping for this year? What do they really love/need? What would they get a lot of use out of? By planning ahead, you lower the risk of over-shopping, or of purchasing gifts that will go to waste.

Reference the Buyerarchy of Needs

Is the gift you are hoping to give something that you already own that you can pass along? Are you able to purchase it secondhand? Is it something you are able to make yourself?

3.

Assess Where You Choose to Shop

Start with small, local businesses as you begin your holiday shopping. We have given recommendations from our favorites in the Columbus, Ohio area to help you get started. If you must shop larger chain stores, ask yourself: is this product ethically sourced? Can it be recycled when it is no longer in use? Does the business pay their employees fairly?

Have Fun!

Remember that the holiday season is not about the presents- it's about quality time with the people you love. It's about celebrating your traditions. No matter what gifts you give, have fun with it!
