Infant Mortality Summit: Helping Indiana Reduce Infant Death

The ISDH is seeking sponsorships for its Fifth Annual Infant Mortality Summit being held on November 15, 2017 in Indianapolis. Well-attended and well-received, the Summit attracts nearly 1,000 participants from across the State of Indiana. The Summit is sponsored by the Indiana State Department of Health and focuses on expanding the use of and replicating current solutions across the state as well as developing new ways to encourage survival of healthy mothers and infants.

Reducing infant mortality is a top priority of the ISDH

The Infant Mortality Summit has established itself as the Indiana forum for health care providers, public health professionals, key partners, local health departments, community and faith-based leaders and others to discuss infant mortality and how we can further work together to protect our most vulnerable population. The summit provides meaningful education and interaction with top notch experts in infant mortality. To this end, this year's conference will continue highlighting the need for partnerships as ISDH cannot do this alone. And we continue engaging a broader audience, identifying champions in local communities, providing education to a wide-variety of providers, and developing sustainable plans of action to move Indiana toward a dramatically lower infant mortality rate.

Sponsorship Benefits

Summit sponsorships provide a unique opportunity to show your organization's commitment to improving Indiana's infant mortality rate. Organizations more than ever understand the importance of supporting collaboration and cooperation within the health care universe, public and private.
