RADICAL INDIE SITCOM
TWIN PEAKS MEETS GROWING PAINS IN THIS NON-TRADITIONAL FAMILY SITCOM

LOS ANGELES, CA - NOVEMBER 23, 2017 - Home Time is a new twist on the traditional family sitcom, reflecting the paranoia, shock and fear of our modern era. Show Creator, Jarred Hodgdon (Quality Sketch) brought together a collective of local writers, producers, actors and technical creatives who took up the challenge of making a show unlike anything else seen today. The pilot episode will release Thanksgiving Day on the Velcro Fathom's youtube channel then broadcast the following day, Friday November 24 at 10:00PM PST locally on Spectrum Charter Cable Ch. 32, The Arroyo Channel.

Home Time stars Eric Toms (Reality Binge) and Jillian Dunn (TMI Hollywood) as the contentious parents of a nuclear family as they slip further under the influence of a cult of mystical capitalism, the OMNI System. Dad attempts to escape his house as Mom rallies forward to save the family by submitting to Omni System rituals and trying to indoctrinate Dad.

Home Time is the televised version of D.I.Y. zine culture praxis; a radical, subversive counterpoint to commercial television. This self-funded endeavor was envisioned and produced by people creating an opportunity for themselves rather than waiting to hear the knock.

Series Stars Eric Toms, Jillian Dunn, Connie Shin, Frank Neuhaus, Imari Reynolds, Ian Starks and James Jones, JR.

Written and Produced by Jarred Hodgdon, Jupiter Baudot, Geoffrey Prather, Adam Scradam and Eric Toms
