PRESTON PROMOTED TO CMO AT HEALTHCARE NETWORK OF SWFL

The Healthcare Network of Southwest Florida (HCN) announced that it has promoted Gregory Preston, M.D., from medical director to chief medical officer (CMO). Preston will develop new models of care to enable patients to make better health care decisions for themselves and their families. Before joining HCN 10 months ago, Preston was the chief medical officer for Integral Quality Care, now part of Molina Healthcare in Tampa.

CONNELLY NAMED VP OF DEVELOPMENT AT GUADALUPE CENTER

Tracy Connelly, formerly of the Lee Memorial Health System Foundation, has been named by the Guadalupe Center (www.guadalupecenter.org) as vice president of development. He served as system director of gift planning and senior director of major gifts for the foundation since 2005. Connelly will be responsible for all fundraising and development activities to raise the needed funds for Guadalupe Center's three core educational programs. These programs, which begin with preschool and culminate with a college degree, strive to create educational possibilities and break the cycle of poverty for the children of Immokalee. Connelly earned his B.A. in Organizational Communications and Business from Western Michigan University.
