Over 140 take the stage on Saturday night

Erie, PA | October 25, 2016

The Erie Philharmonic and Philharmonic Chorus will fill the stage Saturday night as they bring the dark ghoulish scores of Tim Burton films and other Halloween favorites into the spotlight. Over 140 musicians, under the direction of Music Director Daniel Meyer, will present music from spooktacular films such as Sleepy Hollow, Batman, The Nightmare Before Christmas, Edward Scissorhands, Mars Attacks, Beetlejuice, and more!

These holiday favorite films by Tim Burton have delightful scores penned by Danny Elfman. Patrons will also enjoy favorites like Vertigo, 7th Voyage of Sinbad, Danse Macabe and Funeral March of the Marionettes to get into the festive spirit.

Costumes are encouraged. Prizes will be awarded for the top 3 costumes.

“As a self-proclaimed nerd, I am incredibly excited to hear selections from some of my favorite films by our wonderful orchestra. Whenever there are almost 150 people on stage, you can’t help but be swept away by the music,” Executive Director Steve Weiser says.
