The orchestra balances and blends the four families of instruments, to produce a rainbow of tone colors. By changing orchestration, a composer makes the orchestra come alive. Listen to the orchestra ... let your imagination be your color guide! Close your eyes ... listen to the music ... let the music paint a picture in your mind.