

CON MEN CASE FILES

5 x 60' HD

Con Men Case Files explores the lives and minds of some of the world's most notorious con men and women, exposing their shocking crimes, their twisted psychology and how their cruel lies led to their eventual downfall.

When Christine Handy started talking to a handsome, charming and kind stranger in her local coffee shop she could never have imagined that that stranger was a career con man who would go on to dupe her out of an estimated half a million pounds and utterly destroy her life...

For over twenty years, Gene Morrison advertised himself as a Private Detective and Forensic Investigator, taking to the stand in courts across the land under the guise of being an expert witness. He was completely bogus. The fake forensic toyed with the justice system, working on over seven hundred cases and pocketing hundreds of thousands of pounds of tax payers money...

Combining reconstruction and archive with first hand testimony from the police, court reporters and the victims who fell foul of these shocking crimes, the series also welcomes back our three resident experts to offer insightful and revealing analysis of these master criminals' techniques and also their minds.
