THE DEVIL MAKES THREE ANNOUNCE MAY TOUR WITH WILLIE NELSON AND ALISON KRAUSS

ON THE ROAD NOW WRAPPING UP COMPLETELY SOLD OUT
21-DATE WEST COAST HEADLINE RUN

NEW ALBUM I'M A STRANGER HERE OUT NOW ON NEW WEST RECORDS

The Devil Makes Three has announced May tour dates with Willie Nelson and Alison Krauss as they continue its incredible start to 2014. Currently, the trio is in the midst of a historic west-coast run where they have sold out all 21 of their tour dates. The tour is in support of their recently released Buddy Miller-produced album I'm A Stranger Here, which has been hailed by Rolling Stone for their blending of "raw folk, punk-tinged Southern blues and even amphetamine-fueled jazz." The Boston Globe was taken by music that "crackles with an old-timey sense of swing and sophistication while sounding thoroughly down-home." With I'm A Stranger Here, the Washington Post proclaimed that The Devil Makes Three "has made a recording to match its live prowess."

A taste of the live show that has been blowing audiences away for years is available now via eTown.org, which features The Devil Makes Three's energetic performance this past fall in Boulder, CO at E Town Hall.

"Tattoos and acoustic old-timey string bands are about as rare as bluegrass musicians with multiple facial piercings. But body ink is just one aspect that makes punky trio The Devil Makes Three so adaptable to crossing genres and playing stages as diverse as Bonnaroo and The Telluride Bluegrass Festival." - American Songwriter

Since their first album in 2002, The Devil Makes Three has released a steady stream of well-received studio LPs as well as two live albums that have captured their deft musicianship and the rollicking and ragged intensity of their epic, sweat-soaked performances they are so beloved for. They have garnered ardent fans the old school way by relentlessly touring North America and just this summer played with Emmylou Harris & Rodney Crowell, Willie Nelson, Trampled By Turtles and Yonder Mountain String Band. They are also regulars on the festival circuit and veterans at Bonnaroo, Lollapalooza, Hardly Strictly Bluegrass, Treasure Island, the Telluride Bluegrass Festival, Pickathon and many others. Described by Relix as "taking the primitive components of American folk music and assembling them into post-apocalyptic nostalgia," the trio brings forth a genuine approach to acoustic music that is deeply steeped in rhythm but is simultaneously vintage and new.
