

Taylor Gurganus (Co-founder/ Vice Chair)

Taylor Gurganus was born and raised in North Eastern North Carolina. She has a B.S in Elementary Education & Middle School Mathematics. Taylor has always had the passion to better the lives of children. While completing her teaching degree, Taylor cared for children with Special Needs. Little did she know, this was preparing her for her future. Taylor worked full time until having her daughter, Talynn. Talynn was born with Bohring-Opitz Syndrome but went undiagnosed for 12 months. During that time, Taylor had to quit working so she could care for Talynn. Since, she has pushed to raise more awareness for this rare syndrome. In February 2015, Taylor was able to get a ribbon created for BOS and helped advocate the first BOS Awareness Day on April 6th, 2015!
