

Merritt College

Ecology of Mineral King, Sequoia National Park, Fall 2017

Little-known and even less-visited, this subalpine gem in the heart of the Southern High Sierra exhibits sublime vistas of glacial landscapes, alpine lakes and abundant wildlife along numerous trails for those willing to make the effort.

BIOLOGY 62 P (code 44293)
1.5 UNITS

Required classroom sessions at Merritt College, Room S-220, Thursdays, 7-10pm, September 7, 14 & 21.

Field Sessions (at student expense): Sunday, September 16 at the Regional Parks Botanic Garden, and Saturday and Sunday, September 23-24 in Mineral King, Sequoia National Park.

Contact Instructor Ron Felzer for more information:
(510) 436-2618 or
rfelzer@peralta.edu

Register online at www.peralta.edu or call (510) 466-7368 or
(510) 531-4911

This course fulfills a requirement in the Natural History Certificate of Proficiency.

Please contact the instructor for more information.

Merritt College, 12500 Campus Drive , Oakland, CA 94619

