We have not include employee commuting emissions in the above table, as we do not have pragmatic and/or reliable sources of the data we would require in order to report. We can however confirm that all employees use public transport to commute to work, with several making use of the company Cyclescheme.

Emissions reductions targets
To continue our progress towards achieving net zero we have set a number of targets to reduce company emissions. These include:

- Building awareness amongst our staff of the impact of their decisions on our
Metro—Dynamics

- journey towards net zero.
- Reduce business travel by rail, air and coach through effective use of remote working.
- Encouraging staff to cycle to work, making use of Cyclescheme where possible.
- Reduce company waste by reducing paper usage across the business.
