History

Fort Sam Houston was founded in 1845, and named for General Sam Houston, hero of the battle of San Jacinto and first president of the Republic of Texas. Fort Sam Houston is unique among Army posts. On one hand, it is a major, active military installation and plays a vital role in the defense of the United States. On the other hand, it contains some of the oldest structures on any Army installation. Two of those sights are the Pershing House and The Quadrangle. This blend of old and new gives today's soldiers a share of the post's history which dates back more than 150 years. For more information, go to the Fort Sam Houston homepage .

Lackland AFB is named after Brigadier General Frank Lackland, who was commissioned into the Army after serving in the District of Columbia National Guard. Construction on the base began on June 15, 1941, and was originally part of Kelly Field. One year later, it became an independent organization called the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center. On February 3, 1948, the facility became Lackland AFB, Gateway to the Air Force. For more information, please visit the Lackland AFB homepage.

Randolph Field was dedicated on June 20, 1930, as a flying training base and continues in this mission today. The idea for Randolph began soon after the establishment of the Air Corps Act in 1926, which changed the name of the Army Air Service to the Army Air Corps. General Frank P. Lahm was placed in charge of all flying training and established the Air Corps Training Center and set up its headquarters at Duncan Field, next to Kelly Field, TX. After deciding the facilities at Kelly and Brooks Fields were not sufficient for proper training, the Air Corps soon decided an additional training field was needed. Randolph Field was named after Captain William Millican Randolph, who crashed his AT-4 on takeoff returning to duty at Kelly. He contributed immeasurably to the progress of aviation and served on the base name selection committee. After the Air Force became a separate service on September 18, 1947, Randolph Field was officially named Randolph Air Force Base on January 14, 1948. For more history visit Randolph's homepage.

In response to the Joint basing initiative, Lackland activated the 802nd Mission Support Group on February 2, 2010, and realigned under the new 502nd Air Base Wing at Ft. Sam Houston. Several 37th Training Wing staff agencies were realigned in a move to maximize operation training and support missions throughout the base. The 37th TRW retained positions in agencies that were specific to the training mission, while mission support roles reorganized under the 502nd.

Randolph: Randolph AFB is home to numerous Department of Defense units, including Headquarters Air Education and Training Command, Air Force Personnel Center and the host unit, the 12th Flying Training Wing.

Air Education and Training Command's mission is to develop America's Airmen today...for tomorrow. They take America's sons and daughters - young men and women who have volunteered to serve their country in a time of war - and develop them into Airmen. AETC's mission begins with the Air Force Recruiting Service. With 24 enlisted squadrons, three health professions squadrons and more than 1,200 recruiters assigned throughout the United States and overseas, the Recruiting Service's mission is to inspire, engage and recruit the brightest, most competitive and diverse young men and women for service in America's Air Force.

Air Force Personnel Center is the Air Force's Human Resources division implementing personnel, manpower and services programs for nearly 330,000 active-duty members and 150,000 civilian employees through a worldwide network of personnel flights. AFPC carries out the programs covering all life cycles of military and civilian personnel for the Air Force, including defining resource requirements and developing and delivering Airmen for the Air Force and the joint environment. AFPC also manages the implementation of services programs for Airmen and families.

The 12th Flying Training Wing is the Source of America's Airpower, delivering unrivaled airpower leaders for the future of the U.S. Air Force. The wing, which is headquartered at Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, consists of three flying groups and a maintenance directorate spanning more than 1,600 miles. The 12th FTW is responsible for four single-source aviation pipelines. These pipelines include combat systems officer training, pilot instructor training, as well as remotely piloted aircraft pilot indoctrination and basic sensor operator qualification. The wing manages all airmanship programs for the U.S. Air Force Academy and serves as the single screening point for all hopeful aviators to include pilots, RPA pilots and CSOs. The wing also hosts the introduction to fighter fundamentals program as well as conducts electronic warfare training for the U.S. Air Force and multi-national forces. Each year, the wing graduates more than 850 instructor pilots, 350 combat systems officers, 500 remotely piloted aircraft pilots and sensor operators, and trains more than 2,500 U.S. Air Force Academy cadets and 2,200 undergraduate flight training candidates.

Temporary Quarters Fort Sam Houston <http://www.ihgarmyhotels.com> or call 210-357-2705 ext 5000 for reservations or additional information. "Wounded Warriors and their families have priority for lodging at Fort Sam Houston."

Lackland AFB has billeting units available. Those who are in PCS status have top priority. If there are no vacancies in the appropriate lodging facility, the Inns of Lackland have agreements with hotels and motels near the base and downtown to provide temporary housing for those arriving here in official travel status. You will still need to check in at the appropriate military billeting facility to get your non-availability statement. Your sponsor can make reservations for you if you provide a copy of your orders and credit card information. You may prefer to make your own reservations: 210-671-4277, 1-888-235-6343, or DSN 312-473-3622/0047/2556. Web site and E-mail information can be found in the Contacts for Lackland AFB.

There are 7 pet friendly rooms. Lodging maintains a list of pet friendly hotels, motels, and kennels located in San Antonio. They are all within a reasonable distance of the base.

Randolph : Contact the Randolph Lodging office in Bldg. 112 or call 210-652-1844 or DSN 312-487-1844, as soon as you have your orders and an arrival date to request accommodations for you or your family. If nothing is available on base they will refer you to a nearby hotel in the local community.

Relocation Assistance

Fort Sam Houston : The newly arriving Soldier and family members should be aware of the Army Community Service Relocation Assistance Program and the Lending Closet. They are specially designed to make their transition into our community an easier, more pleasant experience. For information on items you can borrow, please go to the Loan Closet topic.

One of the fastest ways to know where things are is to participate in the Trails and Tales Tour of Fort Sam Houston. You can register at the Newcomers' Extravaganza table.

The Newcomers' Extravaganza is an event designed to help integrate the newcomer into the community and to link support services to newly arrived families. Contact the Relocation Assistance Program office for schedule information at 210-221-9698/1681.

Lackland:

NOTE: Visit the Air Force Housing website to find your new home with the Air Force. This website serves as a one-stop shop for Airmen and their families to obtain information about the housing options and support services available to them at Air Forces world-wide.

The orientation is presently every other Wednesday in the Gateway Club from 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. During the summer PCS season, Right Start will be weekly. When you in-process, you will be given your appointment. Attendance is mandatory for the active duty member. Spouses are cordially invited to attend. PCS Childcare is available and must be arranged through the Airman and Family Readiness Center.

Randolph: The Relocation Assistance Center offers classes and individual relocation assessment and referral. We also operate computer based information on other military installations and demographics worldwide. Contact the Relocation Assistance Program at 210-652-5321 or DSN 312-487-5321 for further information.

Child care for infants is at a premium. Two child development centers on base have infant slots, but there is usually a waiting list. Family day care homes are available but also have limited infant capacity. You may pick up a list of family day care homes at the Airman and Family Readiness Center or at the Family Day Care Office located in Bldg. 6629 near Walker and Gentile.

Posted base speed limits are strictly enforced. Violators who speed 15 mph over the speed limit will receive an automatic 30-day suspension of base driving privileges. Violators who speed 20 mph over the speed limit will receive an automatic 60-day suspension of base driving privileges. A suspension means that offenders are prohibited from operating a motor vehicle on Lackland AFB during the suspension period.

Wilford Hall emergency room is now closed. The Urgent Care Center will see only 2 years of age and up. For emergencies, go to the nearest emergency room. All inpatient care has been moved to Brooke Army Medical Center. ID Card Policy Change - ID cards, CAC and DEERS enrolled will be issued by appointment only. Appointment times will be between 8 a.m. and 3:20 p.m. Schedule appointments at <https://rapids-appointments.dmdc.osd.mil> or call and set up an appointment at 671-4178.
